Angry Whirlwind

Congress Winds Up Session; OKs Money, Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first congressional session of the Kennedy administration wound up in an angry whirlwind early today with the Senate having to accept a big money bill which the House bounced to it on a take it or leave it basis.

The House passed the $1,125,927,341 supplemental appropriation and then quickly closed up shop at 4:20 a.m. With the House in adjournment and no chance for compromise, the Senate was forced to go along with the bill providing money for a wide variety of federal agencies.

The slightest Senate amendment would have killed the measure and forced President Kennedy to call a special session to get the needed funds.

Senators minced no words in expressing anger at the House adjournment prior to final Senate action.

"We have taken a shellacking, and I think it's outrageous," protested Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois challenged his colleagues to "show how deep is your conviction."

authorizing the Treasury to assign a number to each income

"Let's find out whether the House of Representatives can affront the Senate," Dirksen roared.

But after additional angry complaints, the Senate passed the measure on a voice vote and quit at 6:16 a.m.

The session which ended in the flare of tempers had run up appropriations totaling about $92.5 billion, a peacetime record.

In its home stretch session of about 19 hours, the heavily Democratic Congress also:

Voted $3,914,600,000 for foreign aid for the year which started July 1. The final figure was a qualified victory for President Kennedy, who originally asked for $4,775,500,000. Although Kennedy was denied the advance Treasury financing he sought, he won a five-year authorization for his economic development loan program —the longest ever voted.

Cleared a $3,908,880,980- public works appropriation for flood control, rivers and harbors, reclamation and atomic energy projects.

War Threat May Be Eased

Gromyko Reply To Kennedy Raises Hope In Berlin Crisis

U.N. Eyed For Role In Berlin Crisis

Assembly May Get Issue If U.S. And Soviet Talks Fail

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The possibility that the United Nations will play some role in efforts to settle the Berlin crisis appeared to be gaining headway today.

If the United States and Russia in current diplomatic talks fail to agree on a formula for starting negotiations, the war-threatening dispute will likely become an issue of prime concern for the General Assembly.

If negotiations can be agreed on, both the Soviet Union and the Allied powers may propose that the United Nations take a hand in carrying out any plan they can devise for the future of West Berlin. Indications are that Soviet and Western leaders alike are thinking along these lines:

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko scheduled another meeting today on the East-West deadlock over how to get negotiations started.

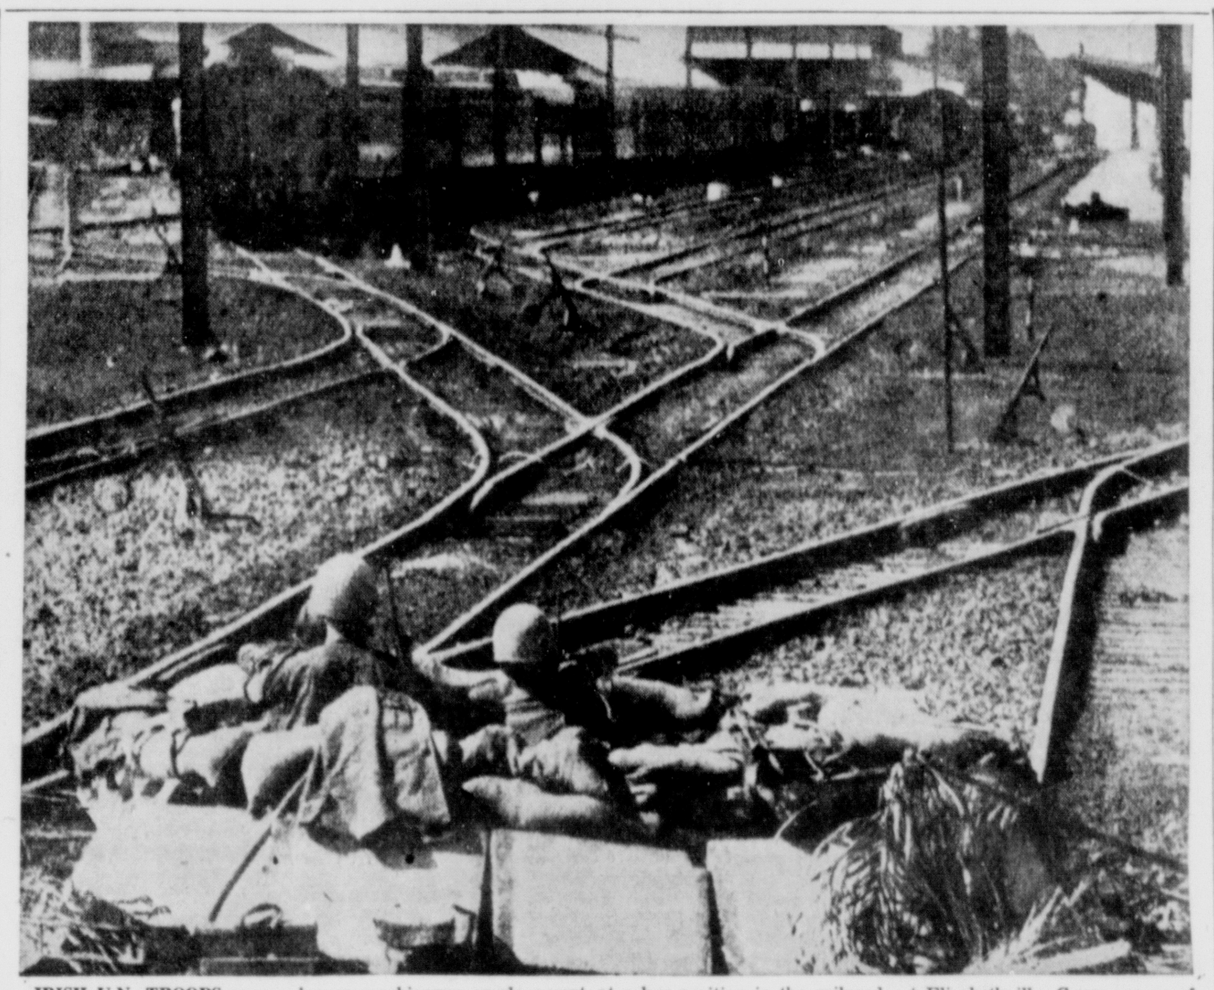

The central issue is what to negotiate about.

On that issue Western diplomats found little encouragement in the Soviet policy speech Gromyko delivered to the General Assembly Tuesday dealing at length with the Berlin situation.

In their view the speech contained nothing essentially new on Berlin policy, but that had been expected. If the Soviet government is willing to engage in the wide negotiations demanded by the United States, Britain and France, the first indications of change in its position almost certainly would be made known by Gromyko not in a speech but in his private talks with Rusk.

Today's session was arranged by Gromyko. He invited Rusk to lunch at his headquarters in a sprawling mansion on Park Avenue. The two previously met last Thursday at Rusk's invitation.

Diplomats noted that Gromyko's report on the Berlin crisis was presented more as an argument for Soviet demands than as a diatribe against the Western powers, although he accused them as usual of threatening war to block Moscow's German peace treaty plan. Some encouragement for hopes of a peaceful settlement was found in the relatively mild tone he employed.

Turns Down President's A-Test Bid

Sticks To Soviet's Disarm Plan, Insists On 3-Man UN Unit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Soviet reply to President Kennedy's U. N. address raised guarded hopes today that the Soviets may be ready to ease the threat of war over Berlin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko turned down the President's bid for a nuclear test ban treaty, stuck to the Soviet line on general disarmament and insisted on a three-man board to replace the late Dag Hammarskjold as U. N. secretary-general.

Nevertheless there were cajoling sounds amid the threats in Gromyko's policy speech before the General Assembly Tuesday.

Gromyko stressed that the Soviet Union intends to sign a peace treaty with East Germany whether the West likes it or not. He declared that a war over the divided city could take hundreds of millions of lives.

The Soviet foreign minister also warned the West against "spouting threats" on Berlin and then repeated the Soviet proposition that West Berlin should be a "free city" with free access.

The joker in this proposal, from the Western viewpoint, is that the city's communications would have to be underwritten by what Gromyko described as "appropriate agreements" with Communist East Germany. The West does not recognize the East German regime and insists on its own rights in Berlin.

However, Gromyko suggested the United Nations might take a role in West Berlin to help avoid conflict. Delegates noted that in discussing possibilities for the future status of Berlin, Gromyko said the Russians would agree to "the use of troop contingents of neutral states or United Nations troops as guarantors of the status of the free city."

This created the impression that Gromyko was laying the groundwork for bringing the Berlin problem before the United Nations if negotiations with the West collapse.

Apparently the Russians feel they can marshal the votes among the nonaligned nations to support their position if the tension builds sufficiently.

Many delegates felt that Gromyko's 1-hour and 45-minute speech contained little new, although there were some signs of giving ground. Neutrals felt encouraged by what they viewed as a moderate tone.

Kennedy May Pick McCone To Head CIA

Chooses Foster As Director Of New Disarmament Unit

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Kennedy may name John A. McCone, former head of the Atomic Energy Commission, to replace Allen Dulles as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

McCone, a Republican, was said to be in line for one of the hottest spots in the government, but one or two hitches had yet to be straightened out.

Kennedy conferred with McCone at the White House several weeks ago. The CIA post may have been discussed at the time, but the announced purpose was the Soviet Union's decision to resume nuclear tests.

McCone, who headed the AEC for three years under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, had contended previously the United States could not go on indefinitely observing the moratorium on atomic tests. Kennedy asked for a personal account of McCone's views.

McCone, 59, a West Coast builder and operator of a fleet of tankers, served for more than a year as undersecretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration. He built ships during World War II.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined to talk of the McCone-CIA reports but indicated Kennedy was on the verge of making a significant announcement.

The President named another Republican, William C. Foster, as head of the new Arms Control and Disarmament Agency Tuesday before flying to Newport from New York.

Navy Tanker Blasts Kill 1 And Hurt 21

Coast Guard Boat Pours Foam, Water Onto Burning Hulk

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP) —A Coast Guard fireboat poured foam and water today onto the burning hulk of a Navy tanker that exploded as it discharged aviation fuel.

One person was killed as a series of explosions shook the tanker Potomac for more than half an hour after the first blast. At least 21 were injured and another was missing.

The flames were confined to the broken tanker. Firemen ashore played water around seven fuel storage tanks containing more than 10 million gallons of aviation fuel.

For many hours after the disaster Tuesday night, the flames had threatened to reach the tanks and turn the entire pier into an inferno.

A Marine officer said five were in good condition and may be released today. They are:

John C. Smith, 65, of Largo, Fla.; Eadis Page, 38, of Houston, Tex.; James H. Minter, 37, of Norfolk, Va.; Adelino Mattamala, 30, of Houston; and Henry Pickens, 32, of Greensboro, N.C.

The four injured more seriously were identified as William H. Massengill, 55; William G. Massengill, 19, and Wade H. Stanley, 51, all of Four Oaks, N.C.; and Henry Crawford of Boston, Mass.

R. W. Hunter, 43, of Montauk Point, N.Y., the tanker's captain, said he escaped the burning vessel by leaping from the stern into the water.

"It was a tremendous explosion, like dynamite going off, or an atomic bomb," said Wade Stanley, 51, of Four Oaks, N. C., who was fishing about 800 yards from the tanker with two companions.

McKenzie told authorities he noticed the door was open on his wife's side of the car, and he slowed down. She reached for the handle to close the door, but her hand slipped off and she fell out near the Pearl China Co., he said.

Mrs. McKenzie was admitted at 12:45 p. m.

Numbers Slip Bonds Posted

Officers Of Lisbon Firm Post $1,000

LISBON — Four officers of the Lisbon Salesbook Co., indicted for illegal printing of numbers slips books, posted $1,000 bonds Tuesday with the clerk of courts office.

Posting the surety bonds set Monday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, when they did not appear personally at arraignment, were Martin Sufrin, president of the firm; Isadore Sufrin, vice president; Joseph Sufrin, secretary-treasurer, and Michael Shidlmeier, manager. All are from Pittsburgh.

Atty. William Moore, counsel for the firm which was raided Sept. 6 by Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, has requested a bill of particulars concerning the indictments before he files a plea for his clients.

A hearing is scheduled Thursday before Judge Joel H. Sharp on a move by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to permit the attorney general's office to serve as the prosecution in the case—the first such numbers book printing charge filed under the new Ohio anti-gambling laws.

Water Break Shuts School Second Time

Westgate Students Out Another Day As Crew Seeks Line

For the second time in three days, Westgate School is closed because of water line trouble in West End.

Water department crews began an excavation this morning in the W. 8th St. "super-road" stretch at Division St. to uncover a break discovered about 9 p. m. Tuesday. The break apparently is in an eight-inch main that lies about in the center of the four-lane road, Supt. Donald Duke said.

School Supt. Ralph W. Betts ordered Westgate closed today because of sanitation and fire protection problems arising out of the lack of water. Eighteen hundred students got another unscheduled holiday. The school also was closed Monday when most of West End was without water during relocation of a line at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts.

Duke said West End's service will be restored late this afternoon or tonight, barring unforeseen accidents.

The water supply was not interrupted this morning, pending completion of the excavation. But service was scheduled to be turned off when the crew began repair of the break.

Excavating through the nine-inch concrete of the "super-road" delayed the job of uncovering the line, Duke said. The break was discovered when water began seeping through the pavement last night.

Some West End residents complained of lack of service last

2 Yanks Get Terms In 'Smuggling' Plot

BERLIN (AP) — An East German court Tuesday sentenced two California students to two years in prison on charges of trying to smuggle an East Berlin girl student into West Berlin in a car's luggage compartment.

Victor Pankey and Gilbert Ferry, both 20 years old, from Tustin, Calif., and four others were convicted of having violated the Communist laws against "flight from the republic" as well as passport regulations, the official East German news agency ADN announced.

West Berliners Angry

Red Police Fire Warning Shots

BERLIN (AP)—East German police fired warning shots Tuesday night when 600 angry West Berliners threw rocks across the border.

Demonstrating against forced evacuations of East Germans from border areas, the crowd aimed rocks at Communist searchlights illuminating the barbed wire barrier. West Berlin police pushed the demonstrators back. The incident occurred in Reinickendorf, in the northern part of Berlin.

Communist authorities have been moving residents out of houses along the border dividing Berlin, slowly turning a strip along their side into a no-man's land. They also began digging a trench 10 feet wide for a mile along a strip of open ground on the southern end of the border in the American sector.

Similar operations also have been under way at Reinickendorf for several days, and some earth-shifting was observed today behind the Fredrichstrasse crossing point for foreigners. It was not clear whether a trench also is being dug there.

Moving vans turned up early this morning at houses on the border in the East Berlin suburb of Pankow. Communist police stood guard as the moving men loaded furniture to clear out houses that could be used for escapes.

The Communists said today 140 families were evacuated from Bernauerstrasse last Sunday to other parts of East Berlin. The figure was given by the official Communist party paper, Neuss Deutschland.

Tax Cut Hope In '62 Died This Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hope for a tax cut next year, a promising young sprout in the spring of 1961, dried up and died during the long, hot session of the 1961 Congress.

There's still brave talk about thoroughgoing reform of the rambling income tax structure, which could well include a reduction in tax rates for many. But congressional realists say the odds are long against any such change being accomplished before 1963 at the earliest.

The House Ways and Means Committee is committed to starting the 1962 session with an all-out effort to write the kind of limited, first-step tax reform bill which President Kennedy wanted enacted this year. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says he hopes to send a bill to the House by February.

That would take some doing, since the committee is known to be deeply divided, even after weeks of discussion, on such basic questions as withholding of income tax on interest and dividends.

Everybody's Batty About Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — It will be a long time before Cincinnatians forget the night the Reds won the National League pennant.

Downtown Fountain Square was crowded—so crowded it was hard to walk. Everybody seemed happy. Many were drinking beer as they wandered around. Others were yelling, as loudly and as often as they wanted to. Cars went past the square, horns blaring.

There were plenty of policemen around. But this was the baseball fans' night, so the men in uniform just looked on. They were having a good time too.

"Sound like a glass factory, doesn't it?" said one of them to no one in particular as people streamed by, their shoes crushing the beer bottles in the gutter.

And, when the yell went up that someone was climbing the three-stories high fountain, the police looked, shook their heads and grinned.

After 21 years, the Reds had won the pennant.

Board Slates New Test For Winters' Post

'Automatic' Choice Of McDaniel From Former List Vetoed

Exercising a legal prerogative, the Municipal Civil Service Commission agreed Tuesday night to discard a 16-month-old eligibility list and schedule a competitive examination Oct. 17 to fill the police department lieutenant's vacancy created Thursday by the death of Micheal A. Winters Jr.

Sixteen patrolmen with two years' or more service will be eligible for the test for the $390-a-month job.

In deciding not to use an eligibility list established in an exam in May 1960, the commission, in effect, decided against giving the lieutenant's post to Patrolman William E. McDaniel, the top man.

The law says that in the case of a promotion the commission must certify the name of the top man and he must be appointed by the safety-service director. If the former eligiblity list had been allowed to stand, the commission would have certified Officer McDaniel's name to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen for appointment.

Officer McDaniel scored the top grade when the test was given May 11, 1960. Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice ranked second and Patrolman Orin C. Smith was third. Richard Higgins, since resigned from the force, placed fourth.

Wording of both the state law and the rules of the local commission give the three members the right to decide whether the 1960 eligibility list would be retained, leading to Officer McDaniel's automatic appointment, or whether to discard the list and call for a new test to allow every eligible patrolman to compete.

After about 90 minutes' discussion, the commission decided in favor of scheduling a new examination.

Reagle made the motion for a new exam, seconded by Burcham. No formal vote was taken, but the clerk was instructed to show in the minutes that "the

War Threat May Be Eased

Gromyko Reply To Kennedy Raises Hope In Berlin Crisis

U.N. Eyed For Role In Berlin Crisis

Assembly May Get Issue If U.S. And Soviet Talks Fail

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The possibility that the United Nations will play some role in efforts to settle the Berlin crisis appeared to be gaining headway today.

If the United States and Russia in current diplomatic talks fail to agree on a formula for starting negotiations, the war-threatening dispute will likely become an issue of prime concern for the General Assembly.

If negotiations can be agreed on, both the Soviet Union and the Allied powers may propose that the United Nations take a hand in carrying out any plan they can devise for the future of West Berlin. Indications are that Soviet and Western leaders alike are thinking along these lines:

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko scheduled another meeting today on the East-West deadlock over how to get negotiations started.

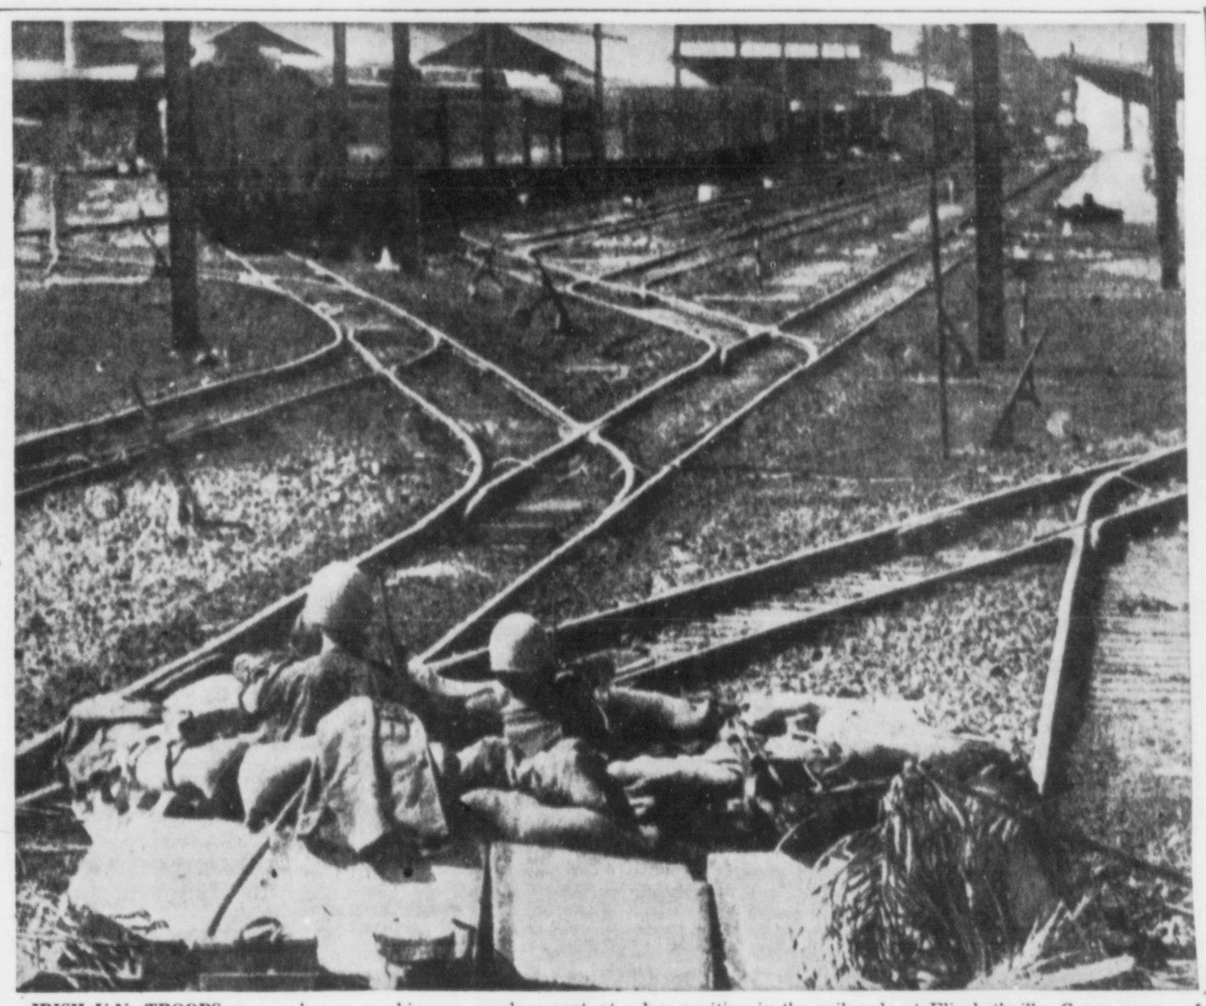

The central issue is what to negotiate about.

On that issue Western diplomats found little encouragement in the Soviet policy speech Gromyko delivered to the General Assembly Tuesday dealing at length with the Berlin situation.

In their view the speech contained nothing essentially new on Berlin policy, but that had been expected. If the Soviet government is willing to engage in the wide negotiations demanded by the United States, Britain and France, the first indications of change in its position almost certainly would be made known by Gromyko not in a speech but in his private talks with Rusk.

Today's session was arranged by Gromyko. He invited Rusk to lunch at his headquarters in a sprawling mansion on Park Avenue. The two previously met last Thursday at Rusk's invitation.

Diplomats noted that Gromyko's report on the Berlin crisis was presented more as an argument for Soviet demands than as a diatribe against the Western powers, although he accused them as usual of threatening war to block Moscow's German peace treaty plan. Some encouragement for hopes of a peaceful settlement was found in the relatively mild tone he employed.

Turns Down President's A-Test Bid

Sticks To Soviet's Disarm Plan, Insists On 3-Man UN Unit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Soviet reply to President Kennedy's U. N. address raised guarded hopes today that the Soviets may be ready to ease the threat of war over Berlin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko turned down the President's bid for a nuclear test ban treaty, stuck to the Soviet line on general disarmament and insisted on a three-man board to replace the late Dag Hammarskjold as U. N. secretary-general.

Nevertheless there were cajoling sounds amid the threats in Gromyko's policy speech before the General Assembly Tuesday.

Gromyko stressed that the Soviet Union intends to sign a peace treaty with East Germany whether the West likes it or not. He declared that a war over the divided city could take hundreds of millions of lives.

The Soviet foreign minister also warned the West against "spouting threats" on Berlin and then repeated the Soviet proposition that West Berlin should be a "free city" with free access.

The joker in this proposal, from the Western viewpoint, is that the city's communications would have to be underwritten by what Gromyko described as "appropriate agreements" with Communist East Germany. The West does not recognize the East German regime and insists on its own rights in Berlin.

However, Gromyko suggested the United Nations might take a role in West Berlin to help avoid conflict. Delegates noted that in discussing possibilities for the future status of Berlin, Gromyko said the Russians would agree to "the use of troop contingents of neutral states or United Nations troops as guarantors of the status of the free city."

This created the impression that Gromyko was laying the groundwork for bringing the Berlin problem before the United Nations if negotiations with the West collapse.

Apparently the Russians feel they can marshal the votes among the nonaligned nations to support their position if the tension builds sufficiently.

Many delegates felt that Gromyko's 1-hour and 45-minute speech contained little new, although there were some signs of giving ground. Neutrals felt encouraged by what they viewed as a moderate tone.

Kennedy May Pick McCone To Head CIA

Water Break Shuts School Second Time

Westgate Students Out Another Day As Crew Seeks Line

For the second time in three days, Westgate School is closed because of water line trouble in West End.

Water department crews began an excavation this morning in the W. 8th St. "super-road" stretch at Division St. to uncover a break discovered about 9 p. m. Tuesday. The break apparently is in an eight-inch main that lies about in the center of the four-lane road, Supt. Donald Duke said.

School Supt. Ralph W. Betts ordered Westgate closed today because of sanitation and fire protection problems arising out of the lack of water. Eighteen hundred students got another unscheduled holiday. The school also was closed Monday when most of West End was without water during relocation of a line at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts.

Duke said West End's service will be restored late this afternoon or tonight, barring unforeseen accidents.

The water supply was not interrupted this morning, pending completion of the excavation. But service was scheduled to be turned off when the crew began repair of the break.

Excavating through the nine-inch concrete of the "super-road" delayed the job of uncovering the line, Duke said. The break was discovered when water began seeping through the pavement last night.

Some West End residents complained of lack of service last

2 Yanks Get Terms In 'Smuggling' Plot

BERLIN (AP) — An East German court Tuesday sentenced two California students to two years in prison on charges of trying to smuggle an East Berlin girl student into West Berlin in a car's luggage compartment.

Victor Pankey and Gilbert Ferry, both 20 years old, from Tustin, Calif., and four others were convicted of having violated the Communist laws against "flight from the republic" as well as passport regulations, the official East German news agency ADN announced.

West Berliners Angry

Red Police Fire Warning Shots

Demonstrating against forced evacuations of East Germans from border areas, the crowd aimed rocks at Communist searchlights illuminating the barbed wire barrier. West Berlin police pushed the demonstrators back. The incident occurred in Reinickendorf, in the northern part of Berlin.

Communist authorities have been moving residents out of houses along the border dividing Berlin, slowly turning a strip along their side into a no-man's land. They also began digging a trench 10 feet wide for a mile along a strip of open ground on the southern end of the border in the American sector.

Similar operations also have been under way at Reinickendorf for several days, and some earth-shifting was observed today behind the Fredrichstrasse crossing point for foreigners. It was not clear whether a trench also is being dug there.

Moving vans turned up early this morning at houses on the border in the East Berlin suburb of Pankow. Communist police stood guard as the moving men loaded furniture to clear out houses that could be used for escapes.

The Communists said today 140 families were evacuated from Bernauerstrasse last Sunday to other parts of East Berlin. The figure was given by the official Communist party paper, Neuss Deutschland.

Board Slates New Test For Winters' Post

'Automatic' Choice Of McDaniel From Former List Vetoed

Exercising a legal prerogative, the Municipal Civil Service Commission agreed Tuesday night to discard a 16-month-old eligibility list and schedule a competitive examination Oct. 17 to fill the police department lieutenant's vacancy created Thursday by the death of Micheal A. Winters Jr.

Sixteen patrolmen with two years' or more service will be eligible for the test for the $390-a-month job.

In deciding not to use an eligibility list established in an exam in May 1960, the commission, in effect, decided against giving the lieutenant's post to Patrolman William E. McDaniel, the top man.

The law says that in the case of a promotion the commission must certify the name of the top man and he must be appointed by the safety-service director. If the former eligiblity list had been allowed to stand, the commission would have certified Officer McDaniel's name to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen for appointment.

Officer McDaniel scored the top grade when the test was given May 11, 1960. Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice ranked second and Patrolman Orin C. Smith was third. Richard Higgins, since resigned from the force, placed fourth.

Wording of both the state law and the rules of the local commission give the three members the right to decide whether the 1960 eligibility list would be retained, leading to Officer McDaniel's automatic appointment, or whether to discard the list and call for a new test to allow every eligible patrolman to compete.

After about 90 minutes' discussion, the commission decided in favor of scheduling a new examination.

Reagle made the motion for a new exam, seconded by Burcham. No formal vote was taken, but the clerk was instructed to show in the minutes that "the

Tax Cut Hope In '62 Died This Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hope for a tax cut next year, a promising young sprout in the spring of 1961, dried up and died during the long, hot session of the 1961 Congress.

There's still brave talk about thoroughgoing reform of the rambling income tax structure, which could well include a reduction in tax rates for many. But congressional realists say the odds are long against any such change being accomplished before 1963 at the earliest.

The House Ways and Means Committee is committed to starting the 1962 session with an all-out effort to write the kind of limited, first-step tax reform bill which President Kennedy wanted enacted this year. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says he hopes to send a bill to the House by February.

That would take some doing, since the committee is known to be deeply divided, even after weeks of discussion, on such basic questions as withholding of income tax on interest and dividends.

Everybody's Batty About Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — It will be a long time before Cincinnatians forget the night the Reds won the National League pennant.

Downtown Fountain Square was crowded—so crowded it was hard to walk. Everybody seemed happy. Many were drinking beer as they wandered around. Others were yelling, as loudly and as often as they wanted to. Cars went past the square, horns blaring.

There were plenty of policemen around. But this was the baseball fans' night, so the men in uniform just looked on. They were having a good time too.

"Sound like a glass factory, doesn't it?" said one of them to no one in particular as people streamed by, their shoes crushing the beer bottles in the gutter.

And, when the yell went up that someone was climbing the three-stories high fountain, the police looked, shook their heads and grinned.

After 21 years, the Reds had won the pennant.

Boat Parade Will Precede Rites At Dam

About 10 boats are expected to participate in the "Parade of Boats" to transport some 300 civic, business and industrial leaders from Steubenville to Stratton Thursday afternoon for the dedication of the new dam and locks.

In the "parade" will be the Navigator of the Union Barge Line, Humphrey of the Consolidation Coal Co., Robert E. Reed of the Wheeling Steel Corp.; Queen City of the Ohio River Co., Harry L. Hillman of the Hillman Barge & Construction Co., Victory of the Dravo Corp., and Vulcan of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Boats which will be in the area from other river transportation companies also are expected to participate.

Guests will board the boats at Lock 10 following a luncheon at noon in the Masonic Temple for transportation to the dedication site. The boats are expected to arrive at approximately 3:30 p. m.

motion passed."

In making his motion, Reagle pointed out that the state law and the commission's rules provide that the commission shall decide whether such an eligibility list will be in effect "for not less than one year nor more than two years."

The commission has followed the custom of allowing a list to stand for a year, then either declaring it expired or formally extending it for another year, Reagle pointed out. Neither action was taken in May 1961, when the former list was a year old, he added. Since the list was over a year old and had not been extended, it could be considered expired, Reagle explained.

By calling for a new examination, the commission will give every eligible officer a right to compete for the promotion, Reagle said.

"We've always left it up to the commission to decide whether a list should stand for two years or a new exam should be called for," Reagle said. "I don't think personalities enter into it.

"If we hold a new exam, it will give every man a right to compete," Reagle said. "If we extend the list to two years, the other men on the force will complain that they didn't have a chance."

"We have a list; if we call for a new exam we will be striking at a definite man," he said. "I don't carry a brief for Bill McDaniel. Circumstances would be different if we had no vacancy. Then if we called for a new exam we wouldn't be striking at any one individual because there would be no job to be filled.

"If we call for an exam now, we are saying we don't feel he is the man for the job and if he is going to get the appointment he must compete again and get on top of the list again. That's making a decision which I do not believe is our job."

Burcham said he favored calling for a new test. The commission's general practice has been to allow an eligiblity list to expire at the end of a year, he said.

"If we certify from the present list, we're giving the job to one man," he said. "If we have a test, everyone eligible can compete."

"That wouldn't be eliminating competition," Atty. Berman replied. "The present list was established by a competitive examination."

After more discussion, Reagle's motion went into the minutes calling for a new test. He also moved that the commission go on record that all future eligibility lists would remain in force for one year. But he withdrew the motion and accepted Atty. Berman's suggestion that the commission will decide at the time of each examination whether the list will stand for one year or two, then enter its decision in the minutes.

The examination Oct. 17 will be held at 7 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. Applications must be filed by Oct. 13 at 4 p. m., the commission decided.

The eligible patrolmen, according to the commission's records, are Jerry F. Adkins, Paul A. Burson Jr., Paul Carter, Robert Duffy, William Devon, Edwin R. Furgason, Keith Heddleston, Samuel E. Hayes, Paul Lemal, Kenneth Mooney, McDaniel, Robert B. Pyle, Smith, Jack F. Strobel, Tice and Charles A. Winters.

In the first step preparing for the exam, the commission will post a notice on the police department bulletin board, giving the date and other details. At least two weeks' notice must be given. It also will mail application forms to every eligible patrolman.

The commission decided the printed tests will be purchased from the Public Personnel Association at Chicago, a municipal service group from which it has obtained other exams. Calhoon was instructed to keep the blank test papers in their sealed envelope to be opened in the commission's presence the night of the exam.

The commission also set a test Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Chamber to make up a new eligibility list for patrolmen's posts. The age bracket is 21-31. The deadline for applications will be Oct. 25 at 4 p. m.

McDaniel Promises Fight For Police Post

Patrolman William E. McDaniel said today he has retained counsel to fight the Civil Service Commission's decision to hold a new examination for a police department lieutenant's vacancy, rather than certify his name from an eligibility list established in May 1960.

The officer indicated he will seek a Common Pleas Court order to restrain the commission from conducting the test. He said his position is supported by state law and various court rulings, including an opinion of the 7th District Court of Appeals in a similar case that arose in Steubenville in 1949.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said an acting lieutenant will be appointed to fill the vacancy pending selection of a successor to Lt. Micheal Winters Jr., who died Thursday. At present, Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk officer, is in charge of the midnight-to-8-a. m. shift which was under Lt. Winters' direction, he said.

taxpayer in a move to keep closer tab on tax returns.

Put aside until next year was a bill designed to ease the tax burden on Du Pont stockholders who might receive 63 million shares of General Motors stock under an antitrust divestiture proceeding.

Since convening last Jan. 3, Congress approved many major points of Kennedy's New Frontiers program. It also rejected several of his major requests.

Democratic congressional leaders said they were well pleased with the record of the 1961 session and predicted that many Kennedy proposals which failed this year would be passed in 1962.

Republican leaders said they had kept their pledge to cooperate with the President on foreign affairs, and had remained true to their principles by seeking to cut or defeat many new domestic spending programs.

The session's spending was exceeded only by two World War II years and one Korean War year. The $92.5 billion in appropriations for the fiscal year which began July 1 includes $8.6 billion interest on the national debt. Not included in the total is a fiscal 1961 supplemental appropriation.

"If we hold a new exam, it will give every man a right to compete," Reagle said. "If we extend the list to two years, the other men on the force will complain that they didn't have a chance."

A little earlier, Atty. Berman explained his stand.

"We have a list; if we call for a new exam we will be striking at a definite man," he said. "I don't carry a brief for Bill McDaniel. Circumstances would be different if we had no vacancy. Then if we called for a new exam we wouldn't be striking at any one individual because there would be no job to be filled.

"If we call for an exam now, we are saying we don't feel he is the man for the job and if he is going to get the appointment he must compete again and get on top of the list again. That's making a decision which I do not believe is our job."

Burcham said he favored calling for a new test. The commission's general practice has been to allow an eligiblity list to expire at the end of a year, he said.

"If we certify from the present list, we're giving the job to one man," he said. "If we have a test, everyone eligible can compete."

"That wouldn't be eliminating competition," Atty. Berman replied. "The present list was established by a competitive examination."

After more discussion, Reagle's motion went into the minutes calling for a new test. He also moved that the commission go on record that all future eligibility lists would remain in force for one year. But he withdrew the motion and accepted Atty. Berman's suggestion that the commission will decide at the time of each examination whether the list will stand for one year or two, then enter its decision in the minutes.

The examination Oct. 17 will be held at 7 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. Applications must be filed by Oct. 13 at 4 p. m., the commission decided.

The eligible patrolmen, according to the commission's records, are Jerry F. Adkins, Paul A. Burson Jr., Paul Carter, Robert Duffy, William Devon, Edwin R. Furgason, Keith Heddleston, Samuel E. Hayes, Paul Lemal, Kenneth Mooney, McDaniel, Robert B. Pyle, Smith, Jack F. Strobel, Tice and Charles A. Winters.

In the first step preparing for the exam, the commission will post a notice on the police department bulletin board, giving the date and other details. At least two weeks' notice must be given. It also will mail application forms to every eligible patrolman.

The commission decided the printed tests will be purchased from the Public Personnel Association at Chicago, a municipal service group from which it has obtained other exams. Calhoon was instructed to keep the blank test papers in their sealed envelope to be opened in the commission's presence the night of the exam.

The commission also set a test Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Chamber to make up a new eligibility list for patrolmen's posts. The age bracket is 21-31. The deadline for applications will be Oct. 25 at 4 p. m.

McDaniel Promises Fight For Police Post

Patrolman William E. McDaniel said today he has retained counsel to fight the Civil Service Commission's decision to hold a new examination for a police department lieutenant's vacancy, rather than certify his name from an eligibility list established in May 1960.

The officer indicated he will seek a Common Pleas Court order to restrain the commission from conducting the test. He said his position is supported by state law and various court rulings, including an opinion of the 7th District Court of Appeals in a similar case that arose in Steubenville in 1949.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said an acting lieutenant will be appointed to fill the vacancy pending selection of a successor to Lt. Micheal Winters Jr., who died Thursday. At present, Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk officer, is in charge of the midnight-to-8-a. m. shift which was under Lt. Winters' direction, he said.

taxpayer in a move to keep closer tab on tax returns.

Put aside until next year was a bill designed to ease the tax burden on Du Pont stockholders who might receive 63 million shares of General Motors stock under an antitrust divestiture proceeding.

Since convening last Jan. 3, Congress approved many major points of Kennedy's New Frontiers program. It also rejected several of his major requests.

Democratic congressional leaders said they were well pleased with the record of the 1961 session and predicted that many Kennedy proposals which failed this year would be passed in 1962.

Republican leaders said they had kept their pledge to cooperate with the President on foreign affairs, and had remained true to their principles by seeking to cut or defeat many new domestic spending programs.

The session's spending was exceeded only by two World War II years and one Korean War year. The $92.5 billion in appropriations for the fiscal year which began July 1 includes $8.6 billion interest on the national debt. Not included in the total is a fiscal 1961 supplemental appropriation.

Of One Thing We Can Be Sure

The word from the United Nations is that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is in no mood to give ground.

He is not expected to respond favorably to President Kennedy's proposals for easing tension. Though the Soviet Union probably will find a way to keep the Berlin issue from exploding, it will not even look for a way to let Americans breathe easier about the long-term prospects of existence in what is now referred to as "this troubled era."

There is no reason the Communist masters of Russia should look for a way to ease tension.

It would be out of character—as much out of character as it would be for a football team that was steadily advancing the ball to hand it over to the opposition because the opposition was tired of being on the defensive.

It would be as much out of character as a Moscow-trained Communist agent losing a contest in dialectics, the art in which all professional Communists excel. No self-respecting Communist ever loses an argument during a debate in which he has a chance to use his training in political disputation.

RUSSIA'S representatives in the United Nations and its top figures in government are the cream of the 20th century crop of experts in disputation. With due respect to their adversaries, the Russians who speak for the Kremlin have been more than a match, with the possible exception of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. when he was speaking for the United States.

This is one of the gritty realities of "this troubled era."

It goes with the realization that the Soviet Union stands ready to negotiate for everything it wants that it dare not seize outright and that this has become the singular strength of its international position. It is negotiating for Western defeat.

The United States and its allies are not inclined to seize anything or demand anything. They are kept humping to find common grounds for their own defense. They have no positive program of their own.

The initiative has belonged to the Soviet Union for so long the Western Allies wouldn't know what to do with it if they had it.

THE WESTERN ALLIES never confront the Soviet Union and its satellites with give-in-or-else demands.

They have no wish to step into a hornet's nest by telling the East German government to tear down the wall in Berlin in 48 hours or have it knocked down with battering rams.

They are afraid to tell the Russians to quit polluting the atmosphere with radioactive particles from nuclear explosions or be prepared to deal with a boycott.

They are afraid to tell the bully-boys of Communist expansion that they have one week to get out of Cuba and turn Cuba back to the Cubans, on pain of looking down the gun muzzles of an invading force of U.S. Marines.

The Western Allies are on the defensive.

The United States is in a corner.

It is in the position of having to show how brave it is by seeking to negotiate with the side that's on the offensive. But that side has no reason to negotiate.

Of one thing we can be sure—that neither Gromyko nor anyone else speaking for the Soviet Union is in a mood to give ground.

Nothing is being demanded of the Soviet Union. It's doing all the demanding.

Promising Pair

Jane Bendheim, East Liverpool High School senior, and William Hobbs, Chester senior, have joined that select group of high school students across the United States who have achieved semi - finalist ranking in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

This accomplishment reflects credit upon themselves, their schools, parents and communities.

But as the scholarship corporation points out, the quality and effectiveness of a school program cannot be judged on the number of semi-finalists from a particular school; there are varying considerations for the selections of the students besides scores, such as population distribution of the state, nature of the community, type of educational program and others.

Nevertheless, the ranking is truly deserved by the individual students, and underscores the prediction by the corporation president, John Stalnaker, who said, "This nation's future intellectual leaders will come from young people who have the qualities of the semi-finalists in the Merit Program."

Charles E. Wilson—Go-Getter

The reliable automobiles he helped to bring to perfection, the huge corporation he had a hand in building, the college he repaid for his education, the nation he served as decision-maker in war production all felt the touch of Charles E. Wilson's personal genius.

In his home town of Minerva, where he lived as a young boy, he showed the emerging qualities that later were to make him outstanding in Detroit, in New York, in Washington and in all the places where Americans rate their outstanding citizens according to their contributions to society.

There can be no doubt that the one-time president of General Motors, the one-time secretary of defense and the all-time go-getter was top caliber in the judgment of those who judged him fairly.

But at his death at the age of 71 is a reminder of the tragedy that befell him when he agreed to join the Eisenhower Cabinet. Because he was a big man in his own right and a symbol of the things left-leaners despise, he became a target for political character assassination. The very qualities that made him strong in private enterprise crippled him in public enterprise. He had no capacity for double-talk, side-stepping, weasel-wording and throat-cutting—the indispensables of survival in Washington.

When Mr. Wilson resigned in 1957, he had become the fall guy for everything its critics disliked about the Eisenhower administration. Because he said what he thought and what he thought was not always flattering, the political assassins could work him over without attracting special attention; he was always in controversy with someone, so they pummeled him at will.

He is remembered most fondly in death for what he was before he went to Washington to take a whirl in politics—one of the giants of U.S. industry. His experience in public life was not reassuring to those who claim representative democracy can draw on the abilities of eminent citizens for everything it needs. Every secretary of defense who has put himself on the spot so far has been a victim of political violence that either broke his spirit or undermined his usefulness—and the fate of Secretary McNamara still hangs in the balance.

The Once Over

"All I want is peace," declared our neighbor as he shook his fist at us, and with the other hand waved a shoe.

"But look here," we began, as he cried, "I have led the forces of true brotherhood," and looked at us down the barrel of a sawed off shotgun.

"Nevertheless—" we started to say. "There must be an immediate end of belligerence," yelled our neighbor, his voice rising as he sharpened a bayonet.

"Let us sit down and reason together," we managed to interject.

"I am willing to sit down and am one of the most accommodating sitter-downers in the community," he thundered as he jumped on a table. A rock went by our chin and we asked, "What was that?"

"Just testing," he shouted, and began to size up a large boulder on the lawn.

"But we both solemnly agreed not to resume testing," we said.

"You began testing, no matter what the contrary evidence is. There would be no trouble here if you were not so unreliable, vicious, warlike and contemptuous of peaceful aims," he barked, as he swung a tire chain and iron pipe.

"Your accusations are difficult to understand," we sighed.

"You don't have to understand them". Just as he thumbed his nose at us, hurled a giant firecracker through our window and added, "Amity and accord are my well known cherished aims."

We felt "beat up" but stammered, "Are we going to negotiate or not?"

"You gotta change your warlike style and stop slugging me," the man cried out as he juggled a huge hatchet, a switchblade knife and two homemade bombs.

"Now listen," we began.

"HERE I AM TRYING TO SYMBOLIZE PEACE AND YOU STANDING THERE MAKING ME QUARRELSOME!" he shrieked. (We gave up for the moment.)

ANIMAL DEALER advertised a marked down sale of elephants, cheetans, camels and chimpanzees the other day. He had cut the price of elephants down to $3,000 from $4,000 and camels from $2,000 to a bargain price of $1,755. (We were in the market for a water buffalo, but he said he didn't stock them.)

EX-PRESIDENT TRUMAN who will probably do a TV series got a preview on "Open End." He was candid, salty, likeable and perfectly at home, but not too impressive in off-the-cuff views on matters of great importance. It was sort of talk one hears around the iron stove, causing one listener to ask "What's Harry doing, trying to bring back the cracker barrel?"

But there is no telling how far Harry might go on TV. "From White House to TV Studio" is a journey full of possibilities. He could be the first ex-President to make the trip, perhaps attaining such popularity his program would include a banjo player, a quartet and a ballet and guest stars. People can never say to Harry, "So you won't TALK."

Hollywood is to have a movie museum of old and famous pictures. Somebody out there must assume people are not watching TV movies.

Big Frog In A Small Puddle

U.N. Action Eyed For Berlin

By Sir William Hayter

BERLIN

Herr Ulbricht's wall through Berlin must be unique in history. Countries have surrounded themselves with defensive walls before, but the object has always been to keep enemies out, not to keep subjects in.

Herr Ulbricht has pinned to his own breast a remarkably solid and irremovable badge of shame.

This wall is a repulsive thing. It is repulsive to read about, and even more repulsive to see in reality. As I saw it the other day in the Bernauerstrasse, with miserable West Berliners waving forlornly to hardly visible relatives beyond the barrier and the juvenile-delinquent faces of the Volkspolizisten beaming above the ill-laid concrete blocks. But repulsive as it is, it serves one or two useful purposes.

IN THE first place it removes once and for all any idea that communism can be the way of the future. Here was an intelligent industrialized people, a people generally given, moreover, to submission to authority.

After a decade and a half of communism they have to be walled in, or they would all run away. Now we really know that communism can be imposed by force or fraud, but never accepted by free consent.

Secondly, this wall reveals clearly the proper shape of the German problem.

There is Germany, and Berlin, inside the wall. And there is Germany, and Berlin, outside the wall.

If we ask what we can do about these the answer is very different in the two cases.

About Germany and Berlin inside the wall we can now, in my opinion, do very little.

What the Russians and Herr Ulbricht are doing in that great concentration camp is, in many respects, illegal. But we do not internationally live under a rule of law. Power is what counts; alas, behind the wall the Communists have the power to do what they like whether it is legal or not.

What they like to do is to keep Germany and Berlin divided, and I cannot see how the West can prevent this.

If they cannot prevent it, however, I see no particular reason why the Western governments should legalize it. They have a treaty obligation not to recognize the East German government, and they have no particular need to do so.

Mr. Khrushchev can sign his Peace Treaty with Herr Ulbricht if it amuses him (the West has made too much fuss about this purely ceremonial act), and if he does, Great Britain, the United States and France may have to have about the same degree of semi-official dealings with the East Germans as the West Germans have long had.

There is no need to go further, and there are strong political and psychological arguments against doing so.

GERMANY and Berlin outside the wall, however, are a different matter. They are within the Western, not the Eastern, power sphere, and this must be made plain: There has hitherto been a tacit convention that the two power-blocs do not invade each other's power spheres.

This convention rests not on any respect for the other side's rights but on fear of consequences. This fear cannot have lost its power over sane men, and we must assume that Mr. Khrushchev retains his sanity (if he does not, heaven help us all).

It is probably urgent to define to Mr. Khrushchev, and through him to Herr Ulbricht, what we consider to be our power sphere in West Berlin; this seems to me to comprise three essential factors.

First, the three Western garrisons must remain in West Berlin with unrestricted right of access.

Second, at least one uncontrolled method of travel between West Berlin and the outside world, probably the airlines, must continue.

Third, there must be no interference with the political liberty of the inhabitants of West Berlin.

If these three points can be assured others, such as the necessary degree of political and economic connection between West Berlin and the Federal Republic, would flow from them.

It is these three points that ought to be put to Mr. Khrushchev in early private negotiations.

If reasonable satisfaction could be achieved on them, concessions could easily be made on other points, such as the acceptance of East Germans in many of the functions now held by Russians. But it ought to be made plain that there can be no concessions on the three main points, and that forceful interference with them will meet forceful resistance.

IT IS PERHAPS not too optimistic to hope that, no doubt after further alarms, some kind of compromise of this sort may be achieved, would not provide any lasting solution. Soviet ambitions will not be stilled, and pressure on West Germany and West Berlin will continue.

Is there any means of avoiding this, or are we faced with a series of Berlin crises extending over decades to come?

Personally, I expect we are, but there is a class of solution that has been discussed lately and that ought to be examined seriously, and that is the involvement of the United Nations.

We must be clear what we want by this. I do not myself believe that a United Nations "presence" in Berlin, in whatever form, could really be effectively combined with the continuance of Western allied garrisons there, at least on any long-term basis; The demand for their withdrawal once the United Nations was installed would in the end be irresistible, even if their presence were tolerated at the start.

We must be careful not to slide into a United Nations solution as a kind of graceful easy exit from out Berlin commitments.

For this reason I doubt very much whether the mere replacement of Western garrisons by United Nations troops, or even the addition of the latter to the former, would do.

Would they be prepared, or able, as the Western garrisons are, to act speedily and effectively in support of the elected government of West Berlin against subversion from the Eastern sector or zone, which could so easily be made to look like a popular uprising? I doubt it.

There is another form of this solution, and that is the transfer of the United Nations headquarters to Berlin. There is much to be said for this.

Strong powers, and forces, to keep the peace and defend the "Federal District" would have to be created. Herr Ulbricht's wall between the two Berlins would probably have to come down. But a niggling doubt about the real capacity of the United Nations to protect the liberties of the West Berliners remains. And in any case, could the United Nations be brought to vote for such a transfer?

But all this is for the future. For now, the Western powers must continue to insist on the three immediately essential guarantees for West Berlin, while keeping an open mind about other possible solutions.

A Great Speech

By David Lawrence

President's U.N. Address Acclaimed

Great speeches by spokesmen for modern governments are rare but when such an address is made, it is quickly recognizable as a work of transcendent merit.

David Lawrence

This appraisal may readily be given with respect to the address of President Kennedy before the General Assembly of the United Nations for he expressed in words as the President of the United States, what the people of this country really feel during the current period of tension in international affairs.

Oratorical at times, epigrammatic in its phrasing, but comprehensive in its treatment of the issues of the day, the speech stated unequivocally American ideals and American purposes. While severely critical of the Soviet Union's policies, it was dignified in its restraint yet unmistakable in its meaning.

The address will have worldwide repercussions. It will be widely rebroadcast and will be read throughout the free world, though unhappily the Soviets will keep their own people from hearing or reading this hopeful and helpful pronouncement which could be made the basis of a real peace if the Soviet people could exert upon their government the influence that is directed every day toward free governments.

EXCERPTS do not do justice to the text of the whole of the President's address, but there were certain passages which are examples of directness and forthrightness in defining the controversies of the day. He said, for instance, to the so-called "nonaligned" nations:

"In this hall there are not three forces, but two. One is composed of those who are trying to build the kind of world described in Articles I and II of the Charter. The other, seeking a far different world, would undermine this organization (the U.N.) in the process."

As for the suggestion of the Soviets that the office of secretary-general be a three-headed affair, with an official from each of the Communist, the Western and the Neutral blocs, like the "troika"—The Russian vehicle drawn by three horses abreast — Mr. Kennedy made this caustic comment:

"Even the three horses of the 'troika' did not have three drivers, all going in different directions. They had only one — and so must the United Nations executive."

Most eloquent and emotional was the President's treatment of the whole armament question as he said:

"Men no longer debate whether armaments are a symptom or a cause of tension. The mere existence of modern weapons — ten million times more powerful than anything that the world has ever seen, and only minutes away from any target on earth — is a source of horror and discord and distrust. . . .

"But we are well aware that all issues of principle are not settled — and that principles alone are not enough. It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union, not to an arms race, but to a peace race — to advance together step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has been achieved."

THE PRESIDENT was not dismayed by the argument that a utopian condition cannot possibly be attained. He called for a program of "steady reduction in forces, both nuclear and conventional, until it has abolished all armies and all weapons except those needed for internal order and a new United Nations peace force."

Mr. Kennedy insisted that this wouldn't "usher in the era of the super-state — but it would usher in an era in which no state could annihilate or be annihilated by another."

Perhaps the President was at his best when he lashed out at the hypocrisy of the Communists as they mischievously champion the cause against colonialism in other lands. He said on this point:

"There is no ignoring the fact that the tide of self-determination has not reached the Communist empire where a population far larger than that officially termed 'dependent' lives under governments installed by foreign troops instead of free institutions—under a system which knows only one party and one belief — which suppresses free debate and free elections and free newspapers and free books and free trade unions—and which builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners. Let us debate colonialism in full — and apply the principle of free choice and the practice of free lebiscites in every corner of the globe."

LEST ANYONE think the glow of idealism in the speech might divert attention from the basic resoluteness of the United States and the West to defend their rights in Berlin, the President pointed out that "terror is not a new weapon" and has been tried before and failed "either because men are not afraid to die for a life worth living — or because the terrorists themselves came to realize that free man cannot be frightened by threats, and that aggression would meet its own response."

He concluded with this warning to Moscow:

"And it is in the light of that history that every nation today should know, be he friend or foe, that the United States has both the will and the weapons to join free men in standing up to their responsibilities."

As said before, the entire speech merits careful reading. It has been in preparation for a long time. It represents the composite thought of many advisers from both parties, inside and outside the government.

It also reflects accurately at this time the public opinion of the United States.

Ask For Joe

By Truman Twill

There was the business with the doorbell . . .

The lady of the house said, "Skip it, genius, and I'll call Joe."

I said, huffily, "Skip it, sniff it. When things come to a pass that I cannot repair a simple thing like a doorbell I'll turn in my handy vice pliers and ratchet screw driver."

She sighed, "Give it a whirl then, Earl, because I can always get Joe."

So I diagnosed the trouble and concluded it must be the fact the doorbell is one of those chime contraptions which I never liked because the one supposed to bong for the back door never bonged at all and the two-bonger for the front door only bonged occasionally and the dogs always thought the bonging on television was ours and chaos ensued.

I ripped out the pusher on the back door eight years ago to get rid of that fraction of the problem and didn't know the other bong wasn't bonging until two months ago, when it was mentioned one day.

I did the logical thing.

I went to the store and bought a real doorbell, with a new pusher, because I never trusted the chimes. When I tried to hook up the new equipment I learned so many things I couldn't comprehend it was as if I was back in school trying to understand chemistry.

Like there was a little hole in the wall back of where the chimes were and out of it came five wires like nerves in a spinal column. That would be two for the back door where the pusher was dead-ended and sealed over, two for the front door and one to grow on.

It figured that if two wires made a spark when rubbed together with the front-door pusher pressed down they were the live wires.

And it figured that the live ones would be the ones sprouting out of the little black box clinging to the side of a joist in the basement, except that where they went after they meandered through a hole in the floor that looked as if it had been gnawed by a mouse during the original ownership of the place was a mystery inside an enigma inside a dilemma, or whatever it was Winston Churchill once said Russia was.

I had the lady of the house outside in a high wind pushing the doorbell pusher for a long time. She said an hour, but her mood was not good, because she said afterward I had been fooling for four hours and all I had accomlished was so many smudges on the wallpaper the place would have to be done over because of one stinking, so and so, intolerable, inexcusable, poor excuse of an unmentionable doorbell. Actually, she said "fumbling," not "fooling," and it wasn't more than three hours, including the time I spent in the morning before going to work.

Joe is coming tomorrow. The fellow's a genius.

Of One Thing We Can Be Sure

The word from the United Nations is that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is in no mood to give ground.

He is not expected to respond favorably to President Kennedy's proposals for easing tension. Though the Soviet Union probably will find a way to keep the Berlin issue from exploding, it will not even look for a way to let Americans breathe easier about the long-term prospects of existence in what is now referred to as "this troubled era."

There is no reason the Communist masters of Russia should look for a way to ease tension.

It would be out of character—as much out of character as it would be for a football team that was steadily advancing the ball to hand it over to the opposition because the opposition was tired of being on the defensive.

It would be as much out of character as a Moscow-trained Communist agent losing a contest in dialectics, the art in which all professional Communists excel. No self-respecting Communist ever loses an argument during a debate in which he has a chance to use his training in political disputation.

RUSSIA'S representatives in the United Nations and its top figures in government are the cream of the 20th century crop of experts in disputation. With due respect to their adversaries, the Russians who speak for the Kremlin have been more than a match, with the possible exception of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. when he was speaking for the United States.

This is one of the gritty realities of "this troubled era."

It goes with the realization that the Soviet Union stands ready to negotiate for everything it wants that it dare not seize outright and that this has become the singular strength of its international position. It is negotiating for Western defeat.

The United States and its allies are not inclined to seize anything or demand anything. They are kept humping to find common grounds for their own defense. They have no positive program of their own.

The initiative has belonged to the Soviet Union for so long the Western Allies wouldn't know what to do with it if they had it.

THE WESTERN ALLIES never confront the Soviet Union and its satellites with give-in-or-else demands.

They have no wish to step into a hornet's nest by telling the East German government to tear down the wall in Berlin in 48 hours or have it knocked down with battering rams.

They are afraid to tell the Russians to quit polluting the atmosphere with radioactive particles from nuclear explosions or be prepared to deal with a boycott.

They are afraid to tell the bully-boys of Communist expansion that they have one week to get out of Cuba and turn Cuba back to the Cubans, on pain of looking down the gun muzzles of an invading force of U.S. Marines.

The Western Allies are on the defensive.

The United States is in a corner.

It is in the position of having to show how brave it is by seeking to negotiate with the side that's on the offensive. But that side has no reason to negotiate.

Of one thing we can be sure—that neither Gromyko nor anyone else speaking for the Soviet Union is in a mood to give ground.

Nothing is being demanded of the Soviet Union. It's doing all the demanding.

Promising Pair

Jane Bendheim, East Liverpool High School senior, and William Hobbs, Chester senior, have joined that select group of high school students across the United States who have achieved semi - finalist ranking in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

This accomplishment reflects credit upon themselves, their schools, parents and communities.

But as the scholarship corporation points out, the quality and effectiveness of a school program cannot be judged on the number of semi-finalists from a particular school; there are varying considerations for the selections of the students besides scores, such as population distribution of the state, nature of the community, type of educational program and others.

Nevertheless, the ranking is truly deserved by the individual students, and underscores the prediction by the corporation president, John Stalnaker, who said, "This nation's future intellectual leaders will come from young people who have the qualities of the semi-finalists in the Merit Program."

Charles E. Wilson—Go-Getter

The reliable automobiles he helped to bring to perfection, the huge corporation he had a hand in building, the college he repaid for his education, the nation he served as decision-maker in war production all felt the touch of Charles E. Wilson's personal genius.

In his home town of Minerva, where he lived as a young boy, he showed the emerging qualities that later were to make him outstanding in Detroit, in New York, in Washington and in all the places where Americans rate their outstanding citizens according to their contributions to society.

There can be no doubt that the one-time president of General Motors, the one-time secretary of defense and the all-time go-getter was top caliber in the judgment of those who judged him fairly.

But at his death at the age of 71 is a reminder of the tragedy that befell him when he agreed to join the Eisenhower Cabinet. Because he was a big man in his own right and a symbol of the things left-leaners despise, he became a target for political character assassination. The very qualities that made him strong in private enterprise crippled him in public enterprise. He had no capacity for double-talk, side-stepping, weasel-wording and throat-cutting—the indispensables of survival in Washington.

When Mr. Wilson resigned in 1957, he had become the fall guy for everything its critics disliked about the Eisenhower administration. Because he said what he thought and what he thought was not always flattering, the political assassins could work him over without attracting special attention; he was always in controversy with someone, so they pummeled him at will.

He is remembered most fondly in death for what he was before he went to Washington to take a whirl in politics—one of the giants of U.S. industry. His experience in public life was not reassuring to those who claim representative democracy can draw on the abilities of eminent citizens for everything it needs. Every secretary of defense who has put himself on the spot so far has been a victim of political violence that either broke his spirit or undermined his usefulness—and the fate of Secretary McNamara still hangs in the balance.

The Once Over

"All I want is peace," declared our neighbor as he shook his fist at us, and with the other hand waved a shoe.

"But look here," we began, as he cried, "I have led the forces of true brotherhood," and looked at us down the barrel of a sawed off shotgun.

"Nevertheless—" we started to say. "There must be an immediate end of belligerence," yelled our neighbor, his voice rising as he sharpened a bayonet.

"Let us sit down and reason together," we managed to interject.

"I am willing to sit down and am one of the most accommodating sitter-downers in the community," he thundered as he jumped on a table. A rock went by our chin and we asked, "What was that?"

"Just testing," he shouted, and began to size up a large boulder on the lawn.

"But we both solemnly agreed not to resume testing," we said.

"You began testing, no matter what the contrary evidence is. There would be no trouble here if you were not so unreliable, vicious, warlike and contemptuous of peaceful aims," he barked, as he swung a tire chain and iron pipe.

"Your accusations are difficult to understand," we sighed.

"You don't have to understand them". Just as he thumbed his nose at us, hurled a giant firecracker through our window and added, "Amity and accord are my well known cherished aims."

We felt "beat up" but stammered, "Are we going to negotiate or not?"

"You gotta change your warlike style and stop slugging me," the man cried out as he juggled a huge hatchet, a switchblade knife and two homemade bombs.

"Now listen," we began.

"HERE I AM TRYING TO SYMBOLIZE PEACE AND YOU STANDING THERE MAKING ME QUARRELSOME!" he shrieked. (We gave up for the moment.)

ANIMAL DEALER advertised a marked down sale of elephants, cheetans, camels and chimpanzees the other day. He had cut the price of elephants down to $3,000 from $4,000 and camels from $2,000 to a bargain price of $1,755. (We were in the market for a water buffalo, but he said he didn't stock them.)

"Yeller - Heller Wedding Held"—headline. Sounds like an exciting match.

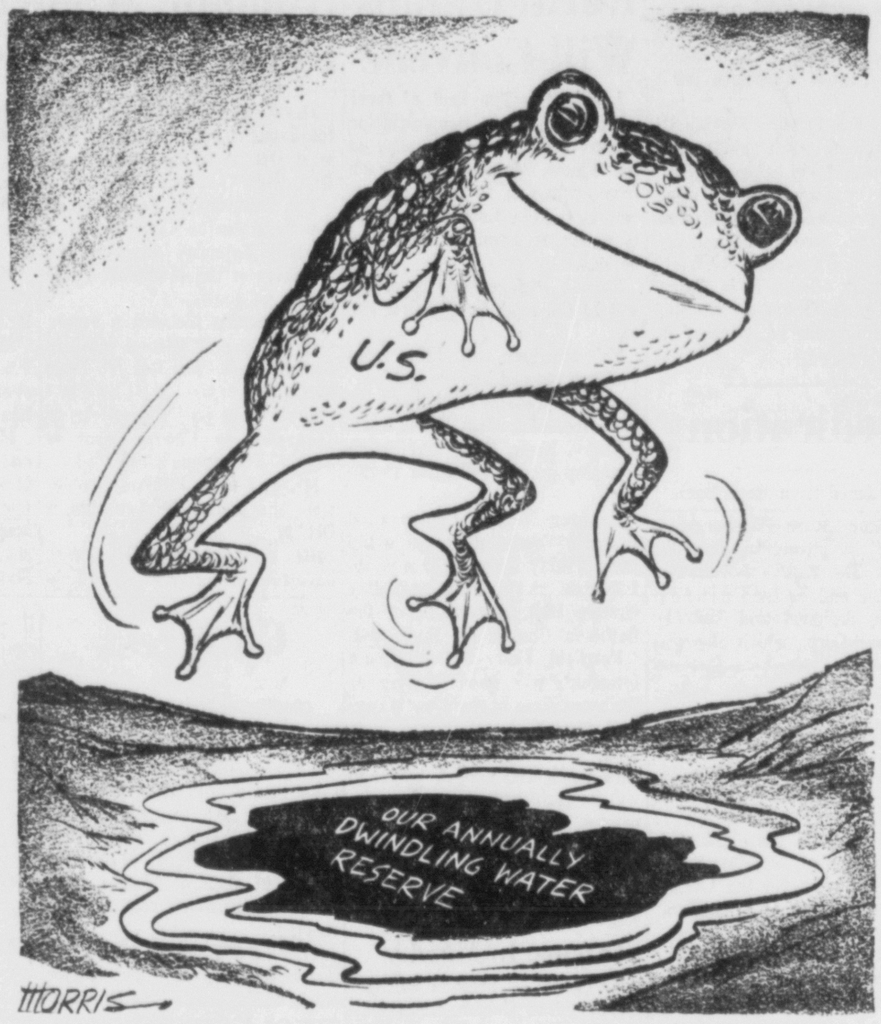

Six-Day Bike Race is being revived in New York, and many New Yorkers are asking, "What's a bicycle?"

EX-PRESIDENT TRUMAN who will probably do a TV series got a preview on "Open End." He was candid, salty, likeable and perfectly at home, but not too impressive in off-the-cuff views on matters of great importance. It was sort of talk one hears around the iron stove, causing one listener to ask "What's Harry doing, trying to bring back the cracker barrel?"

But there is no telling how far Harry might go on TV. "From White House to TV Studio" is a journey full of possibilities. He could be the first ex-President to make the trip. perhaps attaining such popularity his program would include a banjo player, a quartet and a ballet and guest stars. People can never say to Harry, "So you won't TALK."

Hollywood is to have a movie museum of old and famous pictures. Somebody out there must assume people are not watching TV movies.

Big Frog In A Small Puddle

U.N. Action Eyed For Berlin

By Sir William Hayter

BERLIN

Herr Ulbricht's wall through Berlin must be unique in history. Countries have surrounded themselves with defensive walls before, but the object has always been to keep enemies out, not to keep subjects in.

Herr Ulbricht has pinned to his own breast a remarkably solid and irremovable badge of shame.

This wall is a repulsive thing. It is repulsive to read about, and even more repulsive to see in reality. As I saw it the other day in the Bernauerstrasse, with miserable West Berliners waving forlornly to hardly visible relatives beyond the barrier and the juvenile-delinquent faces of the Volkspolizisten beaming above the ill-laid concrete blocks. But repulsive as it is, it serves one or two useful purposes.

IN THE first place it removes once and for all any idea that communism can be the way of the future. Here was an intelligent industrialized people, a people generally given, moreover, to submission to authority.

After a decade and a half of communism they have to be walled in, or they would all run away. Now we really know that communism can be imposed by force or fraud, but never accepted by free consent.

There is Germany, and Berlin, inside the wall. And there is Germany, and Berlin, outside the wall.

If we ask what we can do about these the answer is very different in the two cases.

About Germany and Berlin inside the wall we can now, in my opinion, do very little.

What the Russians and Herr Ulbricht are doing in that great concentration camp is, in many respects, illegal. But we do not internationally live under a rule of law. Power is what counts; alas, behind the wall the Communists have the power to do what they like whether it is legal or not.

What they like to do is to keep Germany and Berlin divided, and I cannot see how the West can prevent this.

If they cannot prevent it, however, I see no particular reason why the Western governments should legalize it. They have a treaty obligation not to recognize the East German government, and they have no particular need to do so.

Mr. Khrushchev can sign his Peace Treaty with Herr Ulbricht if it amuses him (the West has made too much fuss about this purely ceremonial act), and if he does, Great Britain, the United States and France may have to have about the same degree of semi-official dealings with the East Germans as the West Germans have long had.

There is no need to go further, and there are strong political and psychological arguments against doing so.

GERMANY and Berlin outside the wall, however, are a different matter. They are within the Western, not the Eastern, power sphere, and this must be made plain: There has hitherto been a tacit convention that the two power-blocs do not invade each other's power spheres.

This convention rests not on any respect for the other side's rights but on fear of consequences. This fear cannot have lost its power over sane men, and we must assume that Mr. Khrushchev retains his sanity (if he does not, heaven help us all).

It is probably urgent to define to Mr. Khrushchev, and through him to Herr Ulbricht, what we consider to be our power sphere in West Berlin; this seems to me to comprise three essential factors.

First, the three Western garrisons must remain in West Berlin with unrestricted right of access.

Second, at least one uncontrolled method of travel between West Berlin and the outside world, probably the airlines, must continue.

Third, there must be no interference with the political liberty of the inhabitants of West Berlin.

If these three points can be assured others, such as the necessary degree of political and economic connection between West Berlin and the Federal Republic, would flow from them.

It is these three points that ought to be put to Mr. Khrushchev in early private negotiations.

If reasonable satisfaction could be achieved on them, concessions could easily be made on other points, such as the acceptance of East Germans in many of the functions now held by Russians. But it ought to be made plain that there can be no concessions on the three main points, and that forceful interference with them will meet forceful resistance.

IT IS PERHAPS not too optimistic to hope that, no doubt after further alarms, some kind of compromise of this sort may be achieved, would not provide any lasting solution. Soviet ambitions will not be stilled, and pressure on West Germany and West Berlin will continue.

Is there any means of avoiding this, or are we faced with a series of Berlin crises extending over decades to come?

Personally, I expect we are, but there is a class of solution that has been discussed lately and that ought to be examined seriously, and that is the involvement of the United Nations.

We must be clear what we want by this. I do not myself believe that a United Nations "presence" in Berlin, in whatever form, could really be effectively combined with the continuance of Western allied garrisons there, at least on any long-term basis; The demand for their withdrawal once the United Nations was installed would in the end be irresistible, even if their presence were tolerated at the start.

We must be careful not to slide into a United Nations solution as a kind of graceful easy exit from out Berlin commitments.

For this reason I doubt very much whether the mere replacement of Western garrisons by United Nations troops, or even the addition of the latter to the former, would do.

Would they be prepared, or able, as the Western garrisons are, to act speedily and effectively in support of the elected government of West Berlin against subversion from the Eastern sector or zone, which could so easily be made to look like a popular uprising? I doubt it.

There is another form of this solution, and that is the transfer of the United Nations headquarters to Berlin. There is much to be said for this.

Strong powers, and forces, to keep the peace and defend the "Federal District" would have to be created. Herr Ulbricht's wall between the two Berlins would probably have to come down. But a niggling doubt about the real capacity of the United Nations to protect the liberties of the West Berliners remains. And in any case, could the United Nations be brought to vote for such a transfer?

But all this is for the future. For now, the Western powers must continue to insist on the three immediately essential guarantees for West Berlin, while keeping an open mind about other possible solutions.

Suit Against Board Waited

Franklin Township residents, opposed to the recent merger of Franklin Local and Southern Local School Districts, today indicated they are continuing plans to file a court action against the County Board of Education to halt the consolidation.

Fred Johnson of Summitville, who previously presented a petition from the area to the board, seeking a merger with Carroll County school districts, said today the opponents still plan to seek a mandamus action.

The consolidation apparently went into effect Sept. 14, following a 30-day period in which a remonstrance petition could have been filed against the merger approved by the county board in August.

A write-in election is planned for Nov. 7 to name a five-member board for the new district. An interim board was named by the county board this month.

Brother, Sister Perish In Fire, Mother Critical

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A fire, believed to have been started by children playing with matches, claimed two lives here Tuesday and left the mother of the victims in very serious condition.

The burned body of Bryan Chandler, 3, was found at the foot of a stairway in his home and his sister, Vallorie, 5, was discovered under a pile of clothing in an upstairs closet. She is believed to have suffocated.

The mother, Mrs. Frances Chandler, 24, suffered first, second and third degree burns over most of her body before she was dragged from the burning home after she had managed to rescue two of her five children and was groping through the smoke and flames for two others. A fifth child was at school.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, reported Dr. Roderick Purcell, head of the hygiene division of the State Health Department, commended the retarded classes at Elkton in a recent visit.

Crew Pushes Relocation Of 350-Foot Line

Crews went ahead with the tedious work of lowering 350 feet of eight-inch water main near Lisbon and W. 8th Sts., a project that interrupted water service eight hours Monday for 150 homes and Westgate School.

Water Supt. Donald Duke said relocation off the line will be a long-drawn-out process, although no further interruption of West End service is anticipated. All the affected area is being served by water out of the high service area via a main on the Lisbon St. Hill—an arrangement the department worked out to make the interruption as brief as possible.

The water was turned off about 8 a. m. Monday, but service was restored by 4 p. m.

Thirty sections off the eight-inch line must be taken out of the present ditch after each has been separated from the line by melting the lead in the joints with an acetylene torch. Then each section must be cleaned and installed in the new ditch, three feet deeper than the present level. Four of the 30 joints had been switched to the new trench at noon Tuesday.

The line is being relaid at a lower level to clear the way for grading on the city freeway project in that area. The line runs off W. 8th St. a short distance upgrade on Lisbon St. and then turns onto the old W. 8th St. right-off-way — the course the road followed before the four-lane East Liverpool highway was built.

The relocation job has been complicated by a maze of sanitary and storm sewer pipes and telephone cables in the vicinity, Duke said. In one spot, the new water line was altered slightly to pass under a sanitary sewer and in another spot it passes over a storm sewer line.

"It's one of the toughest jobs our crews ever have encountered," Duke commented.

Monday's torrential rain sent a flood off water pouring downgrade into the ditch. Six feet of water was pumped out of the excavation before the work could resume.

A couple more major pipe relocation jobs remain to be finished as part of the changes forced by the freeway construction.

A W. 9th St. main will be relocated, probably without any serious interruption of service.

The biggest job of all will be lowering the main that feeds from the Henry Ave. standpipes on North Side across California Hollow and up the bluff on the other side to serve all of Pleasant Heights.

In the area where the main passes under the new highway right-of-way, it will be lowered and enclosed in a four-foot conduit.

Crew Pushes Relocation Of 350-Foot Line

Crews went ahead with the tedious work of lowering 350 feet of eight-inch water main near Lisbon and W. 8th Sts., a project that interrupted water service eight hours Monday for 150 homes and Westgate School.

Water Supt. Donald Duke said relocation off the line will be a long-drawn-out process, although no further interruption of West End service is anticipated. All the affected area is being served by water out of the high service area via a main on the Lisbon St. Hill—an arrangement the department worked out to make the interruption as brief as possible.

The water was turned off about 8 a. m. Monday, but service was restored by 4 p. m.

Thirty sections off the eight-inch line must be taken out of the present ditch after each has been separated from the line by melting the lead in the joints with an acetylene torch. Then each section must be cleaned and installed in the new ditch, three feet deeper than the present level. Four of the 30 joints had been switched to the new trench at noon Tuesday.

The line is being relaid at a lower level to clear the way for grading on the city freeway project in that area. The line runs off W. 8th St. a short distance upgrade on Lisbon St. and then turns onto the old W. 8th St. right-off-way — the course the road followed before the four-lane East Liverpool highway was built.

The relocation job has been complicated by a maze of sanitary and storm sewer pipes and telephone cables in the vicinity, Duke said. In one spot, the new water line was altered slightly to pass under a sanitary sewer and in another spot it passes over a storm sewer line.

"It's one of the toughest jobs our crews ever have encountered," Duke commented.

Monday's torrential rain sent a flood off water pouring downgrade into the ditch. Six feet of water was pumped out of the excavation before the work could resume.

A couple more major pipe relocation jobs remain to be finished as part of the changes forced by the freeway construction.

A W. 9th St. main will be relocated, probably without any serious interruption of service.

The biggest job of all will be lowering the main that feeds from the Henry Ave. standpipes on North Side across California Hollow and up the bluff on the other side to serve all of Pleasant Heights.

In the area where the main passes under the new highway right-of-way, it will be lowered and enclosed in a four-foot conduit.

Howard Wells, manager of the Ohio Apple Institute, will be in charge of the program.

Educator Claimed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Dr. George Schade, 54, of San Francisco, a member of the faculty of the University of California Medical School, died Tuesday. Dr. Schade, in Evanston for the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics, was a director of the academy.

Club Elects New Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected by the Southern Ruritan Club at a meeting Monday night at the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church. "Family Night" was observed with 85 present.

Baker, program chairman, introduced Dr. and Mrs. Alex Fisher of East Liverpool who screened slides of a trip to the Holy Land. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. James Justice and the Rev. and Mrs. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. Baxter is governor of Ohio Ruritan and Justice is district governor.

Six new members — Harry Kiggans, Robert Thorn, Jesse Parshall, Kenneth Boyd, Lawrence Little and Larry Bowers — were received.

Next meeting is Oct. 30 at the church. Witherow will be in charge of the program.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column ever since it started, which must be at least five years now. You have a terrific sense of humor and I think it's a shame that you waste your time and talent on squirrely teenagers and nutty housewives who are sunk anyway.

With my personality and your brains the two of us could be a winning combination. I have some tremendous ideas which would put both of us right in the big time. Are you interested?—MR. SUCCESS.

Dear Mr. Success: I don't think you need me. Judging by your signature you've already got it made. If you don't mind, I'll just stumble along alone and do as good a job as I can without you.

Draped Draper

Dear Ann: Clyde and I have a profitable drapery business which we've worked hard to build up. His brother usually does the final delivery and hangs the draperies.

Yesterday Clyde said he wanted to hang the draperies "personally" for some lady who is very social because it would be good for business.

He was gone four hours and I began to worry. He finally showed up at home—half crocked. I asked him where he had been and he said they got to visiting over a few highballs and he forgot what time it was.

Also he said his brother had better go hang the draperies tomorrow as he never got around to it.

If Clyde had been picked up in the truck for drunken driving it could have ruined us. He claims that personal attention is good for business, and that I am old fashioned. How about this?—CLYDE'S wife.

Dear Wife: Personal attention IS good for business but when it gets TOO personal it can be bad for business, and also bad for the businessman.

Tell Clyde to let his brother do all the drapery hanging from now on and to stay out of the truck. He has no right to risk years of hard work by mixing alcohol and gasoline.

Post-Vacation Blues

Dear Ann: Since returning from a month's vacation I've been depressed. Does everyone get post-vacation blues or does coming back to this miserable town have something to do with it? Perhaps the real reason for this depression is I just celebrated (?) my 33rd birthday.

I enjoy my work, but the social side of my existence is sterile. Please don't suggest that I join clubs. I'm not the clubby type. And if you say "get interested in politics" I'll scream. This letter is from Washington, D.C., and I work in the government which means eating, sleeping and dreaming politics.

Should I transfer to a job overseas? I loved Europe and the people. The romantic possibilities there seemed limitless. What do you say? Am I cracked?—D.C. DROOP.

Dear D.C.: You're not cracked. You're bored. A vacation spot is always more glamorous than the working terrain but since you seem to have fallen in love with Europe I suggest you transfer for a year and see if the shine wears off.

From the tone of your letter you have little to lose. Your passport doesn't even have to be renewed.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

D. B. Robertson, Ex-Rail Union President, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — David B. Robertson, 85, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for 31 years until his retirement in 1953, died early today in Lakeside Hospital.

He was successful in having the Railway Labor Act enacted in 1926 when he served as chairman of the Committee of Rail Labor Chief Executives.

Robertson entered railroad service in 1895 as an engine preparer on the Pennsylvania Railroad. He moved to the Erie Railroad as a hostler, became a locomotive fireman in 1898 and an engineer in 1902.

His long career in the BLF&E started in 1899 and he became president at the Brotherhood's 29th convention in Houston, Tex., in 1922.

Robertson is survived by his widow, the former Edna Hayes, whom he married in 1907. The couple had a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mrs. James Dyche, who also survive. Services are pending.

Group To See TST Plant

600 In Club At Cleveland Plan Tour Of Ohio Valley

Six hundred Cleveland senior citizens are scheduled to tour the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. plant in mid-October as part of a swing through the scenic Ohio Valley.

The "Fall Foliage Tour" of the group of Clevelanders over 60 will be in two segments, with the first delegation of 300 due Tuesday, Oct. 17, and another group of 300 Thursday, Oct. 19.

The organization makes a tour each year after tree foliage has taken on its autumn colors. This year's swing will bring the group from Cleveland to the Youngstown Interchange on the Ohio Turnpike, then to Steubenville, Weirton, Chester, East Liverpool and back to Cleveland.

TST officials commented the club's tours will represent the largest delegation ever to visit the Chester plant and probably the biggest group ever to inspect a plant in this area.

The company said it regards the tours as a way of "advertising" the beauties of the Ohio Valley region and bringing home to the tour group the fact that America's best dinnerware is turned out in plants around East Liverpool. The "word-of-mouth" advertising likely will result in bringing other tour groups and individuals here from the Northern Ohio area, the firm said.

The exact route the tours will follow from the Youngstown Interchange to Steubenville has not been determined, but there's a possibility they will take Route 7 into East Liverpool and then south to Steubenville.

At Steubenville, the tour groups will cross the Ohio River to Weirton, halting there for lunch at the Community Center. On each day, the tour groups expect to arrive at TST about 2 p. m., halting at least an hour for the plant inspection.

Plant officials said the delegations will be divided into groups of 20 to 25, each with a guide, for the trip through the plant. Six bus loads of 50 are expected on each day.

Group To See TST Plant

600 In Club At Cleveland Plan Tour Of Ohio Valley

Six hundred Cleveland senior citizens are scheduled to tour the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. plant in mid-October as part of a swing through the scenic Ohio Valley.

The "Fall Foliage Tour" of the group of Clevelanders over 60 will be in two segments, with the first delegation of 300 due Tuesday, Oct. 17, and another group of 300 Thursday, Oct. 19.

The organization makes a tour each year after tree foliage has taken on its autumn colors. This year's swing will bring the group from Cleveland to the Youngstown Interchange on the Ohio Turnpike, then to Steubenville, Weirton, Chester, East Liverpool and back to Cleveland.

TST officials commented the club's tours will represent the largest delegation ever to visit the Chester plant and probably the biggest group ever to inspect a plant in this area.

The company said it regards the tours as a way of "advertising" the beauties of the Ohio Valley region and bringing home to the tour group the fact that America's best dinnerware is turned out in plants around East Liverpool. The "word-of-mouth" advertising likely will result in bringing other tour groups and individuals here from the Northern Ohio area, the firm said.

Water Cutoff Set On Friday At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A six-to-eight-hour "drought" is slated for the community Friday when water service will be turned off to permit installation of two fire hydrants.

The water shutoff plans were reported Monday night at a meeting of Council, which last month purchased two new hydrants to replace 65-year-old hydrants along Water St. and the West End.

Water will be turned off in the whole community about 7 a. m. and will be off until the replacement by the water department crews is completed.

Salineville High School and grade school will be closed because of the water shutoff, officials said. Other Southern Local Schools will hold classes.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman reported he had conferred with highway officials about a proposed erection of a flasher warning signal on Route 644 at a dairy refreshment stand where traffic movement is hazardous.

The mayor said Gaylord Zellars, county supervisor for the Ohio Highway Department, said there is a possibility that a flasher may be authorized. However, he said a speed limit sign would be posted as soon as possible.

Councilman Orval Tolson said he had received complaints of garbage being thrown into Yellow Creek, but the complainants were unwilling to sign a warrant.

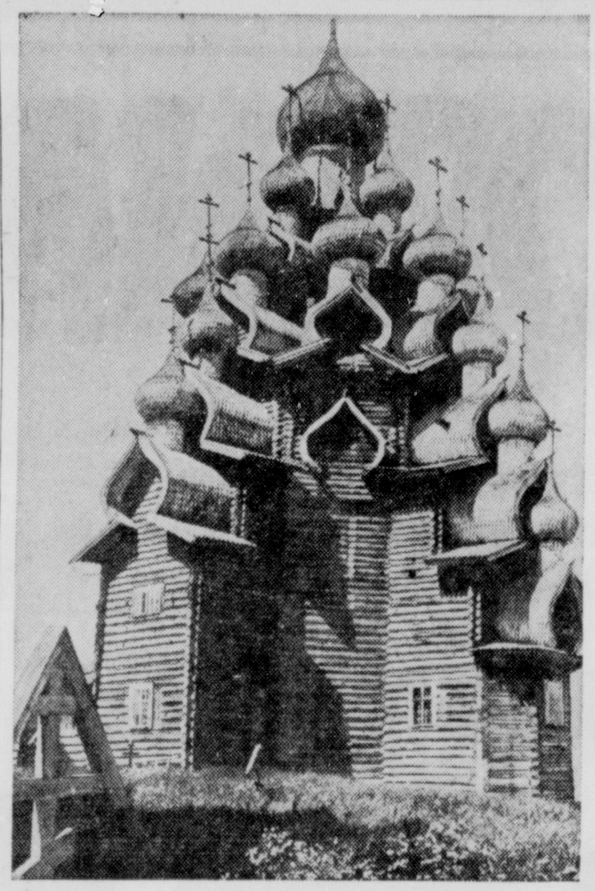

Tolson reported Norman Guess of Mechanicstown will inspect the Village Hall heating system to offer prices on installation of a circulating pump. Councilman Donald Lewis said Leonard Bonselle of Salem will also offer a price after inspection.

Councilman Joe Knight reported city officials have been invited to a free supper to be held by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Monday at 7 p.m. at the fire station.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott reported police had patrolled 1,109 miles in the period Aug. 28 to Sept. 25, had investigated three traffic accidents, issued 21 warnings, received seven dog complaints, made seven arrests and investigated two enterings.

Pete Growall, street supervisor, was instructed to cut a tree limb which is obstructing a stop sign at E. Main St. and Route 39.

The next meeting will be Oct. 9.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remedy a drawer which persists in sticking?

A. Sand the runners of this offending drawer down so that the drawer opens and closes easily, then spray shellac on the runners to seal them from humidity which could make them swell and stick again.

Q. How can I clean zinc?

A. Rub carefully with kerosene and polish with newspapers. This combination of printers' ink and kerosene is especially effective in the removal of stains.

Q. Please suggest a good remedy for loose casters in furniture.

A. Try filling the holes with some melted paraffin, and then quickly reset your casters.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Area Redevelopment Administration announced today provisional approval of economic improvement plans covering 14 counties in six states.

Approval of the plans makes the counties eligible to seek federal aid under the new program which provides for loans and grants to depressed sections.

The counties whose plans were approved included Scioto County, Ohio.

Chrysler Provides New Features

Chrysler's 1962 model cars are being presented by East Liverpool Central Service Co., 142 W. 7th St., and Grafton Motor Sales, 327 Main St., Wellsville.

The Chryslers are new in appearance, improved in performance and unchanged in size, with emphasis on the new 300 sports series.

"There will be no junior editions of Chrysler," says C. E. Briggs, vice president of the Chrysler Corp. and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division. "This policy proved successful during the 1961 model year. We gained in sales with Chrysler. We are continuing the policy in 1962, with cars that have an exceptional number of sound engineering improvements."

Briggs said the most important change in the Chrysler lineup is the expansion of the 300 line of high performance cars, which now become available in a lower price range than previous 300 series cars. There also will be a 300H, carrying on the tradition of previous 300 limited production models.

Chrysler 300 cars will be available with a choice of three high performance engines, ranging up to 380 horsepower. In limited production will be a 405-horsepower short ram induction engine.

Improvements in all three series — New Yorker, 300 and Newport — include a new compact transmission, engine refinements which provide better cooling, surer choke operation, quieter operation and improved fuel economy; a new quieter starting gear, lubricant-sealed chassis fittings, and a more efficient power braking system.

Barberton Woman Speaks For Meeting Of Quota Club

Miss Mary Paull of Barberton was guest speaker for the meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Hilda McEwen of St. Clair Ave.

Her topic was "The Gospel of the Dietitian According to Paul." She told of recent changes in the dietary departments of hospitals and mentioned the vast knowledge necessary in the study of dietetics.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher and Miss Gladys DeBolt, delegates to the 28th annual conference of the 6th District last week at Columbus, gave their reports. They listed the theme as "Let's Put Our Hearing Aid Into Orbit" and said the motto for the year will be "To Show the Spirit of Humility."

Miss Phyllis Crook, president, conducted business. Mrs. Ila Shingler read the minutes. Miss Mildred McGregor reported on the first session of the Speech and Hearing Clinic conducted Saturday at Westgate School. She said six therapists were kept busy and brochures are ready for distribution.

Miss Louella Thompson and Miss Mary White were named to a committee to check the by-laws for any necessary revision.

Miss DeBolt, chairman, reported on "The World Travel and Adventure Series" the group is sponsoring Oct. 17, 24, 31 and Nov. 7 at Westgate School. Tickets were distributed with the returns to be taken to Miss Thompson, Miss Crook or Miss DeBolt. Mrs. Edna Jones will take tickets to the Key and Hi Tri Clubs of the high school, and members will receive a percentage of the sales for their groups.

The club voted to dispense with the meeting Oct. 24 because of the travelogue.

Dessert was served 23 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Horsley and Mrs. Mary Daily, associate hostesses. Flowers and lighted tapers decorated the buffet table at which the president poured. Mrs. Veronica White was a guest.

Next luncheon meeting is Oct. 10 at the Travelers Hotel.

Nixon To Reveal If He'll Run For Governor's Post

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon steps before a televised news conference tonight to answer the big question—will he run for governor of California next year?

Even his closest advisors professed not to know in advance whether it would be yes or no. At least they weren't talking.

Everything seemed to point toward a campaign by the 1960 Republican presidential nominee to dump Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

There was the careful staging of the announcement, the steady buildup of a "draft Nixon" clamor within the state GOP, little hints here and there.

But, just as easily, puzzled guessers could make out a sound case for a decision by Nixon, 48, not to chance his political future with state voters who are better than 3-2 Democratic.

Republicans themselves are divided on Nixon's course. Some have told him that he needs the governorship to build a platform for another national race in 1964 or 1968.

They are East Liverpool Central Service Co., 142 W. 7th St.; Grafton Motor Sales, 327 Main St., Wellsville, and Central Service, 4th and Washington Sts., Newell.

A whole new look sets the 1962 Plymouth distinctly apart from all its predecessors among low-price, standard - size automobiles.

"The 1962 Plymouth is so totally new and different in so many ways, and so far ahead of any other car we ever introduced, that it's impossible to compare it with anything we've ever known before," C. E. Briggs, vice president of the Chrysler Corp. and general manager of the Chrysler - Plymouth Division, declared.

"Entirely different Foward Flair design and proportion of the new Plymouth produces a new center of balance that has opened the way for a spectacular built-in advantages that go far deeper than Plymouth's new beauty," he said.

Heading a long list of important design innovations, new improvements and benefits engineered into the cars are:

New center of balance for an all-new riding feel.

Greater fuel economy, up to 7 per cent better than 1961.

New stepped-up performance, up to 11 per cent ahead of 1961.

New self-adjusting brakes.

Letter Writing Week Observance Planned

The 24th annual Letter Writing Week will be celebrated Sunday through Oct. 7 in East Liverpool, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

Brown said materials observing the week and calling attention to this year's slogan, "Letters are Links to Friendship," will be displayed on Post Office bulletin boards, rural carrier vehicles and in schools and libraries.

"Since a letter is the most economical and personal way to extend greetings, communicate news and exchange ideas," Brown suggested each resident write two letters during the special week. One should be written to a friend or relative who hasn't been heard of for a long time, and the other should be a reply to a letter you received recently.

The symbol of the 1964 World's Fair in New York's Flushing Meadow is to be a huge openwork globe of stainless steel, called a Unisphere.

'Black Light' Demonstrated In Program Of Rotary Club

The magic of ultra - violet light was demonstrated by R. Max Gard of Lisbon, historian and antique shop operator, at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

Using short - wave and long-wave ultra - violet lamps that converted dull, nondescript rocks into miracles of glowing color, Gard described uses of the equipment that has opened up new worlds for "rockhounds" and prospectors.

When trained on specimens of minerals he gathered from across the country, the dim, purplish beams of the lights made the rocks shine with glowing hues in striking clarity.

The room was darkened for the demonstration. It followed a talk by the former county commissioner on the discovery of "black light" and fluorescence.

Gard exhibited a short-wave lamp that is contained in an envelope of quartz or high silicon material. The long - wave lamp he demonstrated is coated inside with a special fluorescent substance, which, when acted upon by the short-wave ultra-violet in the tube, radiates long - wave ultra-violet light.

Gard explained the "black light" lamp was perfected when the nation's supply-line of tungsten from China was severed by the start of World War II.

In searching for tungsten deposits in this country, prospectors using infra-red lights discovered "sheelite," an ore of tungsten, which sparkles against a deep purple background.

The development of the geiger counter a few years later aided prospectors in discovering radioactive materials such as uranium with the advancement of nuclear fission in World War II, Gard said.

Though the geiger counter is considered a working partner with "black light" in locating radioactive materials or "hot" substances, the infra-red lights are most successful, Gard said.

The speaker explained fluorescence, the emission of light from a substance being stimulated by radiant energy, was discovered in 1830 in England by Sir George Stokes.

Experimenting with flourescent lighting, scientists discovered many things of benefit to the world in using ultra-violet lights, including use in medical science, Gard said.

Gard said the short -wave light is more accurate than the long-wave. Some mercury vapor lamps, rich sources of potent black light, are provided with filters to screen out the unwanted visible rays, Gard said.

"Although use of fluorescence is very old, there is still a lot to be learned," he said.

Scientists have perfected other uses for "black light" in addition to using it to locate important mineral deposits, Gard said.

It is used in studying old documents to turn faded ink, invisible to the naked eye, into ink that glows and is readable, and in criminology.

The "black light" process was used recently in Lisbon to nab a thief who had looted parking meters that were secretly coated with a special powder. The hands of the suspect glowed under infra-red light in a darkened room, Gard said.

Gard conducted a brief question-and-answer session while displaying his mineral collection under the lights.

Gard was introduced by Richard V. Beatty, program chairman.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, reminded members of the Rotary Ann dinner Oct. 4 at the Country Club.

Beaver County Girl Scouts To Attend Roundup

Plans for the third Senior Girl Scout Roundup are being completed by Beaver County Girl Scouts, who will take part in the encampment. The roundup will be held in July 1962 at Button Bay, Vt. Previous roundups were in 1956 near Detroit and in 1959 at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Two patrols of eight girls each will attend from Beaver County. The quota was raised because of the large increase in registration off senior scouts in the county. Previously one patrol was sent.

Tryouts were begun in May and a training day was held at Bradys Run Girl Scout Cabin and two tryout weekends at Camp Fombelina near Zelienople during July and August.

Each applicant had a personal interview with one of the round-up trainers and also was required to write a letter describing her interest in the roundup and her experiences in the scouting program. About 70 girls attended the first session and 39 completed the tryout finals. The finalists represented 11 senior Girl Scout troops from the county.

In the final selection 16 girls were chosen and eight alternates named. Alternates were trained and will be prepared to replace any girl who may not be able to attend because of illness or drop outs. The names are to be announced in the near future.

Roundup training and selections committee consisted of Mrs. Gilbert Hart of Brighton Township, Mrs. Daniel Radasinovich of Aliquippa and Mrs. Richard Herter of Ohio View, a professional staff worker off the Beaver County Girl Scouts.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Spillane Writes Another Book

"You must remember," said Mickey Spillane, "that I started a whole new trend in mystery writing—with a little sex and a little violence.

Marie Torre

The imitators, fully aware of my success, put into their stories a lot of sex and a lot of violence.

"And who got the reputation for the worst? You're darn tootin' I did!"

Facts of history aside, the big news is that Spillane is writing another book about Mike Hammer, hero of bloody pulps and rat-a-tat prose whose appearance on weekly TV in '58 may well have started the anti-violence campaigns that erupted all over television TV.

WITH MINDLESS ferocity the target of the day, the climate is hardly propitious for the announcement of Spillane's first Mike Hammer book in nine years, but that's what he's at work on, and, more surprising, getting TV interest for it.

Said book, titled "The Girl Hunters," is expected to be completed within weeks. If Spillane doesn't meet the deadline, it'll be only because of the distracting elements of excitement that attend the occasion.

"Everybody wants to see the book," put in Spillane. "Television people, motion picture people—inquiries come in from all over. But mostly from my readers.

"You might say it was because of public pressure that I decided to do the new Hammer book. For years, I haven't been able to step outside my home without somebody or other asking about another Mike Hammer.

"AS FOR TV and movie rights, I'm not in any rush. I'm no longer satisfied with the limited interest I've had in television and movie adaptations of my works. From now on I'm going to keep a closer watch on how they're done."

For the legion of violence's foes, Spillane's decision could prove to be, strange though it may sound, a welcome development. He doesn't approve of the murder and mayhem on TV either.

"From what I've seen of TV violence, and I've seen a lot of it," said Spillane, "It's overdone, hackneyed and contrived—did you ever notice that the hat on the guy fighting never falls off?

"They don't know now to handle this kind of action on TV, where a fight is just a choreography. It all looks like make believe. I sit and watch and I could call every shot."

WHILE SPILLANE will not let any secrets out of the literary bag before publication of "The Girl Hunters," he does reveal the comforting news that the new Mike Hammer will have "maturity."

In other words, Hammer will not come back in all his old image—slapping beautiful women around, guzzling whisky and shooting quicker than the other guy.

"The public," he says, "has grown accustomed to Hammer's old shenanigans. Just as readers have matured since the first books were written, so has Hammer. It's all a matter of growing up—in age, as well as literary talent.

"I would say that in the book field we've made greater advances than they have in television and movies put together, probably because we don't have to bow to agencies or sponsors. Book writing is still a pure medium."

THOUGH THE COMING adventures of Mike Hammer have sparked television interest, he is aware of a small clique that nurtures the fear his efforts would have trouble meeting the TV code. He's loquacious on the subject.

"Some network executives have the strangest ideas as to what I would do in TV," he remarked. "They think I'd parade a bunch of naked women and splash sex and sadism all over the screen.

"That's ridiculous. Books are books, and TV shows are another thing. As soon as I start a script with a simple statement, like, 'She was a woman—' they immediately conjure up all kinds of sexy visions. In other words, I'm paying for my notoriety."

Conversely, notoriety is paying him well—so well that he acknowledges no economic pressure to write.

Report On Workshop Heard By Secretaries

Reports on the state workshop held Saturday in Columbus were heard at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the East Liverpool Area Chapter of the National Secretaries Association Monday night at the MYCA.

Miss Susan Graff, president, presided. Officers and chairmen of standing committees gave reports. Outlines for future plans were discussed. Membership applications were reviewed.

The first annual observance of "Bosses' Night" will be held at 6:30 Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel. Miss Graff is taking reservations.

Firemen Extinguish St. Clair Auto Fire

City firemen extinguished an auto fire at 6th St. and St. Clair Ave. Tuesday afternoon at 4.

The blaze, which damaged the wiring in the vehicle owned by a College St. resident, was caused by a backfire through the carburetor, firemen said.

Fire hydrants in Pleasant Heights and Thompson Ln. were flushed by firemen Tuesday afternoon.

AFL-CIO Officers To Act On Ouster Bid

CLEVELAND (AP)— Executive officers of the Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation of Labor were to meet today to act on a resolution that William Finegan, executive secretary of the federation, be asked to resign.

Ford, Union Are Reported Near Accord

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union were believed close to agreement today on a new three-year labor contract.

Company and union spokesmen indicated Tuesday night they were filling in the details rather than arguing over major items that could bring on a strike at the nation's second largest automaker.

In negotiations that appeared to be without tension, both sides were under secrecy wraps—pledged to talk only in generalities about the progress of the bargaining in a downtown Detroit hotel.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the discussions dealt with "general noneconomic contract matters." This meant they talked about the section of a national contract covering working conditions for Ford's 120,000 hourly employes.

Reuther took time out from the Ford talks Tuesday to sign formally a new contract with General Motors Corp. It goes to Sept. 20, 1964. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton joined in the signing ceremonies.

The GM settlement set the pattern for the current Ford negotiations and also for Chrysler, next on the list.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Spillane Writes Another Book

"You must remember," said Mickey Spillane, "that I started a whole new trend in mystery writing—with a little sex and a little violence.

Marie Torre

The imitators, fully aware of my success, put into their stories a lot of sex and a lot of violence.

"And who got the reputation for the worst? You're darn tootin' I did!"

Facts of history aside, the big news is that Spillane is writing another book about Mike Hammer, hero of bloody pulps and rat-a-tat prose whose appearance on weekly TV in '58 may well have started the anti-violence campaigns that erupted all over television TV.

WITH MINDLESS ferocity the target of the day, the climate is hardly propitious for the announcement of Spillane's first Mike Hammer book in nine years, but that's what he's at work on, and, more surprising, getting TV interest for it.

Said book, titled "The Girl Hunters," is expected to be completed within weeks. If Spillane doesn't meet the deadline, it'll be only because of the distracting elements of excitement that attend the occasion.

"Everybody wants to see the book," put in Spillane. "Television people, motion picture people—inquiries come in from all over. But mostly from my readers.

"You might say it was because of public pressure that I decided to do the new Hammer book. For years, I haven't been able to step outside my home without somebody or other asking about another Mike Hammer.

"AS FOR TV and movie rights, I'm not in any rush. I'm no longer satisfied with the limited interest I've had in television and movie adaptations of my works. From now on I'm going to keep a closer watch on how they're done."

For the legion of violence's foes, Spillane's decision could prove to be, strange though it may sound, a welcome development. He doesn't approve of the murder and mayhem on TV either.

"From what I've seen of TV violence, and I've seen a lot of it," said Spillane, "It's overdone, hackneyed and contrived—did you ever notice that the hat on the guy fighting never falls off?

"They don't know now to handle this kind of action on TV, where a fight is just a choreography. It all looks like make believe. I sit and watch and I could call every shot."

WHILE SPILLANE will not let any secrets out of the literary bag before publication of "The Girl Hunters," he does reveal the comforting news that the new Mike Hammer will have "maturity."

In other words, Hammer will not come back in all his old image—slapping beautiful women around, guzzling whisky and shooting quicker than the other guy.

"The public," he says, "has grown accustomed to Hammer's old shenanigans. Just as readers have matured since the first books were written, so has Hammer. It's all a matter of growing up—in age, as well as literary talent.

"I would say that in the book field we've made greater advances than they have in television and movies put together, probably because we don't have to bow to agencies or sponsors. Book writing is still a pure medium."

THOUGH THE COMING adventures of Mike Hammer have sparked television interest, he is aware of a small clique that nurtures the fear his efforts would have trouble meeting the TV code. He's loquacious on the subject.

"Some network executives have the strangest ideas as to what I would do in TV," he remarked. "They think I'd parade a bunch of naked women and splash sex and sadism all over the screen.

"That's ridiculous. Books are books, and TV shows are another thing. As soon as I start a script with a simple statement, like, 'She was a woman—' they immediately conjure up all kinds of sexy visions. In other words, I'm paying for my notoriety."

Conversely, notoriety is paying him well—so well that he acknowledges no economic pressure to write.

School Bus Passers Pay

Two motorists paid penalties today in Municipal Court on charges they passed halted school buses Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave.

Joseph P. Dornan, 59, of 518 College St., was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Willie Williams, 416 Penn Ave., Midland, forfeited a $32.50 bond.

Both were cited by Patrolman Floyd K. Heddleston — Dornan at 11:55 a. m. and Williams at 12:03 p. m.

Officer Heddleston told the court Dornan passed a bus which was halted to pick up passengers on Pennsylvania Ave. at Mulberry St. Dornan, headed west, was halted for the traffic light in the intersection while the bus was headed east, he related. When the traffic signal changed, Dornan proceeded although the bus still was halted, the officer said. No younsters were crossing the street at the time, he added.

Lecturing Dornan, the judge pointed out children leaving or entering school buses cross streets without normal precautions against traffic, knowing that the law requires all motorists to halt. Any violation of the school bus law "is a very serious charge," he added.

Meanwhile, the judge ordered a Wellsville man to pay $7.50 costs in connection with three charges on which he was cited Sept. 15. Emmett Vernon, 1614 Main St., was charged with two counts of improper registration and a third count of failure to secure title to a car within the legal time after its purchase.

Vernon pleaded guilty earlier and his case was continued until today to permit him to untangle the license and title trouble. When he produced papers today showing his registration and title were clear, the judge dismissed two of the charges and ordered him to pay the costs in the third.

8 District Students Selected Scholarship Semi-Finalists

Eight area young people have been selected as semi-finalists in the 1961-62 National Merit Scholarship competition, among 10,000 students across the United States who took the tests last March.

They are Jane F. Bendheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bendheim, 3169 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool High School senior; William Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hobbs, 246 Indiana Ave., Chester, also a senior; Susan Lee Ferrall of Columbiana, Joseph Decort and Steven Sabol of Salem; Gary Kronk and Virginia Salko of Beaver and Curtis Frank of New Brighton.

The semi-finalists will take another examination Dec. 2 at testing centers throughout the nation for selection of finalists who will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by businesses foundations, individuals and the Scholarship Corp.

The names of semi-finalists are sent to all accredited colleges and universities and other scholarship and financial aid sources.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the Scholarship Corp., said the accomplishments of the semi-finalists bring credit to themselves, their schools, their parents and communities.

"The achievement of any student is usually the product of many influences. Ability is of course is a major factor. The wish and the will to make the most of that ability are equally important. Ambition and drive are key factors.

"But the able can be discouraged as well as encouraged. That is why the attitudes of parents, the extent to which a community supports its schools, and the amount of recognition given to intellectual attainment also significantly influence the development of talent.

"At a time when brain power is increasingly the source of national power, we must all encourage, in every way possible, the pursuit of intellectual excellence by our able students."

Architects Club Magazine Lists New City Church

The publication devoted a page to pictures and a brief description of the Trinity church in a feature article, "Emerging Patterns of Pittsburgh Church Construction, 1950-1961."

Designed by Paul Schweikher and J. Nessly Porter, associate architects, the Trinity church is nearly completed.

In a brief description which accompanied the picture, the magazine said: "Planted like a pre-Columbian temple against the broadly rising slope of a superb hillside site commanding the Ohio valley, this formally planned structure is an assured virtuoso performance in pre - cast and pre-stressed concrete members and concrete block.

The "Chartette" goes to all registered architects in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio, and has a total circulation of 8,500.

Chief Bryan Urges Checkup Of Appliances For Heating

East Liverpool householders were reminded today by Fire Chief Charles Bryan to check heating appliances to make sure they are in good condition for using during cold weather.

The chief suggested that furnaces, water heaters, incinerators and room heaters be inspected for adequate ventilation, proper adjustment and safe connections.

"Ordinary precautions and common sense will prevent almost all home accidents involving heating appliances," Chief Bryan said.

For any heating appliance to operate safely and effficiently, it must have ventilation, Chief Bryan explained. Buring any fuel without a good fresh air supply can produce carbon monoxide. Proper vents permit the escape of the products of combustion, and should be checked regularly, he said.

1. Make sure the heater is vented to a good chimney.

2. See that the vent pipe goes up, not down, to reach the chimney.

3. See that there is a cleanout opening with cap in the chimney under the vent (stove pipe).

4. See that the chimney is clean. (One way is to blow smoke into the clean-out opening to make sure it is drawing properly. If the smoke is drawn into the opening and up the chimney, the draft is sufficient.)

5. Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney and seal around the pipe with cement or plaster where it enters the chimney.

6. See that there is outside fresh air to the space where the heater is located.

7. Have a qualified, licensed installer connect and adjust your heater.

8. Don't use a cook stove for room heating.

Chief Bryan emphasized, "don't neglect calling an authorized repairman if you suspect that your heating equipment is not working properly, or if you smell fumes. It may cost a few dollars but it may save your life."

White House Getting Social Season Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is getting its fall social season under way, piecemeal and following tradition after a fashion.

The first major event that falls into the scheme of customary presidential entertaining is a big judicial reception scheduled for Monday night, Oct. 9.

The Supreme Court, federal judges and about 400 guests will be invited. Instead of the usual 9 p.m. formal white tie reception time of other years, the Kennedy's will entertain from 6 to 8 p.m., with dress informal.

The White House is issuing its social plans monthly instead of for the entire season.

John Fitch of Lisbon spoke on his visit to an archaeological excavation during a trip through the Southwest at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night with Harold A. Dawson of Boring Ln.

The exploration is being conducted by the University of New Mexico. Fitch said a group of 16 ancient living quarters have been excavated. In many cases, the walls of the buildings were plastered and covered with paintings of geometric designs or birds, animals and humans.

Fitch said they are being cleaned and photographed. He was permitted to do some surface collecting and secured many fragments of artifacts. The time period involved is approximately 600 B. C., Fitch said. He displayed the artifacts.

The club made plans to travel to Minerva to see the collection of the late Earl H. Hawkins, a pioneer collector of Indian relics and historical facts. He started the collection in 1898.

Dawson took group pictures of the club. He also demonstrated proper lighting methods to be employed when photographing archaeological specimens. Harry M. Cline gave the treasurer's report.

Next meeting is Oct. 9 at 7 p. m. at the home of Cline of Wellsville.

High Court Confirms Assault Case Verdict

A conviction of a Wellsville man for assault with intent to rape has been upheld by the 7th District Court of Appeals in two rulings released this week.

The appellate court rejected an appeal by William Thomas who was convicted in October 1960 by a Common Pleas Court jury on the assault indictment.

Thomas claimed he had an alibi and the evidence could have been mistaken identity.

In another ruling, the appeals panel upheld a ruling of Common Pleas Court in refusing change of custody of two minor children in the case of Wanda Jean Laner against Leo Laner.

The cases were presented to the appeals court Sept. 13.

Chopped watercress and chili sauce are a good team to add to French dressing. Serve the dressing over hearts of lettuce.

Pennant Back In Cincinnati After 21 Years Of Waiting

Reds Defeat Cubs, 6-3, In Afternoon As Dodgers Split Two At Pittsburgh

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Reds si, Yankees no."

That was the main theme as the long-frustrated Cincinnati citizenry celebrated the Reds' first National League pennant in 21 years with a rash of superlatives for their heroes and a deep bow in the direction of Pittsburgh pitcher Joe Gibbon.

The Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in a day game Tuesday earning a tie for the NL flag, then had to wait for Gibbon to get the actual clinching job done by eliminating the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers with a one-hitter.

That victory, an 8-0 shutout after the Dodgers had remained in contention with a 5-3 victory in the first game off a twi-night doubleheader, sent the Reds into the World Series against the American League champion New York Yankees.

The Yankees, who clinched their 26th pennant last week, had their own reasons to celebrate after a 3-2 victory over Baltimore in which Roger Maris hit his 60th home run and matched Babe Ruth's 1927 total.

To ace reliever Jim Brosnan (10-3) went the honor of nailing down Cincinnati's long-awaited pennant. Brosnan set the Cubs down on one hit over the final three innings. Jerry Lynch provided the winning runs with a two-run homer in the eighth that snapped a 3-3 tie.

The Reds' long day started in the first inning when Chicago scored against starter Bob Purkey on Don Zimmer's single, a passed ball and George Altman's double. The Cubs added two in the fifth when the Reds defense collapsed following a two-out single by Cub starter Bob Anderson.

Richie Ashburn's roller went for a hit when second baseman Don Blasingame failed to rush in, and Don Zimmer was credited with a hit when Gene Freese allowed his tap down third to roll and the ball stayed fair.

Ernie Banks then bounced to shortstop Eddie Kasko but his throw to Blasingame for a force-out was wide. Anderson scored and the bases remained loaded. Altman's walk forced in the other run before the side was retired.

The Reds battled back. Held to one hit over five innings, they scored their first run in the fifth on a leadoff homer by John Edwards and put it away when Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer in the seventh off Anderson (7-10) and Lynch connected in the eighth.

At Pittsburgh, the Dodgers hung on by winning the opener behind Stan Williams (14-12) with a five-run second inning outburst against Bob Friend (14-19). Jim Gilliam's bases-loaded triple was the key blow.

That was the Dodgers last chance. Gibbon completely subdued them in the nightcap, allowing only a leadoff sixth inning pinch-hit single by Bob Aspromonte.

The Pirates won it in the third, chasing Don Drysdale (12-10) with a five-run splurge after two were out.

In the only other NL game, Milwaukee beat St. Louis 9-2. Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the first inning off Ray Sadecki (14-10) gave Lew Burdette (18-10) a cushion he never relinquished.

Cincy Can Celebrate--But Not Walt Alston

AS THE NEWS was announced over the air that the Reds had won the National League championship as the Pirates downed the Dodgers, Reds manager Fred Hutchinson (center) was lifted into the air. The lifting was done by Dick Sisler, a coach (back to camera) Waite Hoyt, former Yankee great (right) and some Cincy fans. (UPI Telephoto)

DEJECTED manager Walt Alston sits in the visitors dugout at Pittsburgh after the Pirates knocked the Los Angeles Dodgers out of the pennant race with a 7-0 shutout. Alston's face mirrors reaction of the entire Dodger team—disappointment.

It's Homer No. 60 For Roger Maris

Blast Comes Off Fisher

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now for No. 61.

Roger Maris, who hit his 60th homer Tuesday night as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 3-2, has four games remaining in which to get the home run that will make him the most productive one-season homer hammerer in major league baseball history.

He'll get his first shot at No. 61 today against the Orioles' Steve Barber (17-12). Then he takes a day off Thursday before resuming his efforts to surpass Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927 with a three-game set against Boston that closes out the 162-game schedule.

The Cincinnati Reds became the Yanks World Series opponents clinching the National League pennant by beating Chicago 6-3 while Los Angeles was eliminated in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader against Pittsburgh.

No. 60 for Maris was a high arching shot off a 2-2 pitch by Baltimore right-hander Jack Fisher in the third inning. It came four games too late to qualify for an official tie with Ruth's 34-year old record under the 154—decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick. The game was the Yanks 159th, including one tie.

After grounding a single to center in the first inning, Maris fouled off the first two pitches by Fisher in the third, took two balls, then fouled one into the dirt before connecting with a drive that shot into the upper right field stands, about three feet fair.

"It's the greatest thing that has happened to me," said Maris after the game, "probably the greatest thing that ever will happen to me. Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more."

Maris' homer was the Yanks first run off Fisher (10-13), who led 2-0 going into the third, but lost the game on Johnny Blanchard's run-producing single in the sixth and an error by outfielder Jackie Brandt in the seventh that let in the clincher following singles by Billy Gardner and Tom Tresh. Reliever Rollie Sheldon (10-5) was the winner.

In other AL games, Kansas City beat Detroit 8-3, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 7-3, Washington nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago and Boston split. The White Sox won the first 7-5. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap by the same score.

Rocky Colavito hit homer No. 44 for the Tigers but the A's rapped rookie starter Ron Nischwitz (0-1) for six runs in the first three innings to put it away.

Gary Bell (12-15), who had a shutout until Zoilo Versalles hit a three-run homer in the eighth, went all the way for the Indians and stroked three hits in a 14-hit attack against the Twins.

Gene Green's ninth-inning homer broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Senators and Bennie Daniels (11-11) the victory over the Angels as homers accounted for all the runs.

Roy Sievers, who also hit a homer in the second game, won the opener for the White Sox and Ray Herbert (12-12) with a two-run shot in the seventh off Gene Conley (11-14). The Red Sox won the nightcap when pinch hitter Gary Geiger smashed a two-run triple in the eighth.

Bevo Seeking Pro Job With Pipers

Bevo Francis, the ex - Wellsville and Rio Grande star who rewrote college basketball scoring records, is among 18 candidates bidding for a berth with the Cleveland Pipers of the new American Basketball League.

The Pipers opened drills Monday in Cleveland and six players must be cut from the squad before the regular season opens Nov. 5 in Pittsburgh. Two more will go a month later.

Bevo last played professional basketball with the Boston Whirlwinds, a team owned by Abe Saperstein that supplied competition for the Harlem Globetrotters.

Francis had been running six to eight miles each day near his home in Highlandtown in an all-out effort to be in good shape when he reported to the Pipers.

The 29-year-old Bevo played in the City Basketball League in East Liverpool last winter and was spotted by the Pipers in post-season independent tournaments.

Coach John McLendon of the Pipers said Bevo is down in weight and "looks good."

Four of last year's starters are back with the Pipers. They are Jack Adams, Ben Warley, Roger Taylor and John Barnhill. Johnny Cox, the All-American from Kentucky, returned to the Cleveland entry after spending last season with the Akron Goodyears.

In 1960, the Pipers were in the National Industrial League, an amateur loop.

McGaha Seen Choice For Cleveland Post

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)— Against the background of the mystery of who is going to be the Cleveland Indians next manager, Gary Bell pitched the Tribe to a 7-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins Tuesday.

General Manager Gabe Paul has said he will make his managerial choice known in Los Angeles this weekend. Cleveland first base coach Mel McGaha is said to have the inside track, but he confounded the prophets by saying nobody has asked him if he wants the job. Manager Jimmie Dykes says he's sure McGaha will be named.

Bell lost a shutout in the eighth inning when Zorro Versalles homered with two on. Bell (12-15) contributed three singles and drove in a run. The righthander gave up 10 hits, but stranded the same number of runners.

The Indians got a run in the first on Jim Piersall's walk and singles by Chuck Essegian and John Romano.

In the second, singles by Woodie Held, Mike de la Hoz and Bell produced the one run, and a second scored when centerfielder Lenny Green dropped Piersall's short fly with the bases loaded.

Cleveland increased its lead to 4-0 in the seventh. Singles by Willie Kirkland and Romano and a walk to Vic Power filled the bases. Held then singled to score Kirkland.

The Tribe gained a 7-0 edge with three runs in the eighth. Bell singled and Ken Aspromonte walked. Tito Francona drove Bell in with a double. Kirkland was walked intentionally, loading the bases. On a double play ball hit to second baseman Billy Martin by Romano, Kirkland slid hard into Martin, who threw wild to first after making the force play. Aspromonte and Francona scored on the error.

Player Holds Edge In Golf Money Race

County Chiefs Discuss New Park For Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County commissioners and the Cincinnati City Council meet together sometime soon to discuss a joint effort for getting the National League champion Reds a new ball park.

Councilman Thomas C. Spraul made the suggestion Tuesday. He said the park—which might be located on the central riverfront—could also be used for football and rodeos.

County commissioners were sympathetic to the idea. Commissioner Louis J. Schneider said financial details have to be settled.

Commissioner Edwin J. Tepe, speaking for the new stadium, referred to the thousands of World Series ticket applications the Reds will have to return.

Both Spraul and Tepe suggested that the new stadium be a memorial to Hamilton County veterans. Spraul noted that a similar city-county project got the Milwaukee Braves a stadium some years ago.

That victory, an 8-0 shutout after the Dodgers had remained in contention with a 5-3 victory in the first game off a twi-night doubleheader, sent the Reds into the World Series against the American League champion New York Yankees.

The Yankees, who clinched their 26th pennant last week, had their own reasons to celebrate after a 3-2 victory over Baltimore in which Roger Maris hit his 60th home run and matched Babe Ruth's 1927 total.

To ace reliever Jim Brosnan (10-3) went the honor of nailing down Cincinnati's long-awaited pennant. Brosnan set the Cubs down on one hit over the final three innings. Jerry Lynch provided the winning runs with a two-run homer in the eighth that snapped a 3-3 tie.

The Reds' long day started in the first inning when Chicago scored against starter Bob Purkey on Don Zimmer's single, a passed ball and George Altman's double. The Cubs added two in the fifth when the Reds defense collapsed following a two-out single by Cub starter Bob Anderson.

Richie Ashburn's roller went for a hit when second baseman Don Blasingame failed to rush in, and Don Zimmer was credited with a hit when Gene Freese allowed his tap down third to roll and the ball stayed fair.

Ernie Banks then bounced to shortstop Eddie Kasko but his throw to Blasingame for a force-out was wide. Anderson scored and the bases remained loaded. Altman's walk forced in the other run before the side was retired.

The Reds battled back. Held to one hit over five innings, they scored their first run in the fifth on a leadoff homer by John Edwards and put it away when Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer in the seventh off Anderson (7-10) and Lynch connected in the eighth.

At Pittsburgh, the Dodgers hung on by winning the opener behind Stan Williams (14-12) with a five-run second inning outburst against Bob Friend (14-19). Jim Gilliam's bases-loaded triple was the key blow.

That was the Dodgers last chance. Gibbon completely subdued them in the nightcap, allowing only a leadoff sixth inning pinch-hit single by Bob Aspromonte.

The Pirates won it in the third, chasing Don Drysdale (12-10) with a five-run splurge after two were out.

In the only other NL game, Milwaukee beat St. Louis 9-2. Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the first inning off Ray Sadecki (14-10) gave Lew Burdette (18-10) a cushion he never relinquished.

Cincy Can Celebrate--But Not Walt Alston

AS THE NEWS was announced over the air that the Reds had won the National League championship as the Pirates downed the Dodgers, Reds manager Fred Hutchinson (center) was lifted into the air. The lifting was done by Dick Sisler, a coach (back to camera) Waite Hoyt, former Yankee great (right) and some Cincy fans. (UPI Telephoto)

It's Homer No. 60 For Roger Maris

Blast Comes Off Fisher

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now for No. 61.

Roger Maris, who hit his 60th homer Tuesday night as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 3-2, has four games remaining in which to get the home run that will make him the most productive one-season homer hammerer in major league baseball history.

He'll get his first shot at No. 61 today against the Orioles' Steve Barber (17-12). Then he takes a day off Thursday before resuming his efforts to surpass Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927 with a three-game set against Boston that closes out the 162-game schedule.

The Cincinnati Reds became the Yanks World Series opponents clinching the National League pennant by beating Chicago 6-3 while Los Angeles was eliminated in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader against Pittsburgh.

No. 60 for Maris was a high arching shot off a 2-2 pitch by Baltimore right-hander Jack Fisher in the third inning. It came four games too late to qualify for an official tie with Ruth's 34-year old record under the 154—decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick. The game was the Yanks 159th, including one tie.

After grounding a single to center in the first inning, Maris fouled off the first two pitches by Fisher in the third, took two balls, then fouled one into the dirt before connecting with a drive that shot into the upper right field stands, about three feet fair.

"It's the greatest thing that has happened to me," said Maris after the game, "probably the greatest thing that ever will happen to me. Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more."

Maris' homer was the Yanks first run off Fisher (10-13), who led 2-0 going into the third, but lost the game on Johnny Blanchard's run-producing single in the sixth and an error by outfielder Jackie Brandt in the seventh that let in the clincher following singles by Billy Gardner and Tom Tresh. Reliever Rollie Sheldon (10-5) was the winner.

In other AL games, Kansas City beat Detroit 8-3, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 7-3, Washington nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago and Boston split. The White Sox won the first 7-5. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap by the same score.

Rocky Colavito hit homer No. 44 for the Tigers but the A's rapped rookie starter Ron Nischwitz (0-1) for six runs in the first three innings to put it away.

Gary Bell (12-15), who had a shutout until Zoilo Versalles hit a three-run homer in the eighth, went all the way for the Indians and stroked three hits in a 14-hit attack against the Twins.

Gene Green's ninth-inning homer broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Senators and Bennie Daniels (11-11) the victory over the Angels as homers accounted for all the runs.

Roy Sievers, who also hit a homer in the second game, won the opener for the White Sox and Ray Herbert (12-12) with a two-run shot in the seventh off Gene Conley (11-14). The Red Sox won the nightcap when pinch hitter Gary Geiger smashed a two-run triple in the eighth.

County Chiefs Discuss New Park For Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County commissioners and the Cincinnati City Council meet together sometime soon to discuss a joint effort for getting the National League champion Reds a new ball park.

Councilman Thomas C. Spraul made the suggestion Tuesday. He said the park—which might be located on the central riverfront —could also be used for football and rodeos.

County commissioners were sympathetic to the idea. Commissioner Louis J. Schneider said financial details have to be settled.

Commissioner Edwin J. Tepe, speaking for the new stadium, referred to the thousands of World Series ticket applications the Reds will have to return.

Both Spraul and Tepe suggested that the new stadium be a memorial to Hamilton County veterans. Spraul noted that a similar city-county project got the Milwaukee Braves a stadium some years ago.

Bevo Seeking Pro Job With Pipers

Bevo Francis, the ex - Wellsville and Rio Grande star who rewrote college basketball scoring records, is among 18 candidates bidding for a berth with the Cleveland Pipers of the new American Basketball League.

The Pipers opened drills Monday in Cleveland and six players must be cut from the squad before the regular season opens Nov. 5 in Pittsburgh. Two more will go a month later.

Bevo last played professional basketball with the Boston Whirlwinds, a team owned by Abe Saperstein that supplied competition for the Harlem Globetrotters.

Francis had been running six to eight miles each day near his home in Highlandtown in an all-out effort to be in good shape when he reported to the Pipers.

The 29-year-old Bevo played in the City Basketball League in East Liverpool last winter and was spotted by the Pipers in post-season independent tournaments.

Coach John McLendon of the Pipers said Bevo is down in weight and "looks good."

Four of last year's starters are back with the Pipers. They are Jack Adams, Ben Warley, Roger Taylor and John Barnhill. Johnny Cox, the All-American from Kentucky, returned to the Cleveland entry after spending last season with the Akron Goodyears.

In 1960, the Pipers were in the National Industrial League, an amateur loop.

McGaha Seen Choice For Cleveland Post

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)— Against the background of the mystery of who is going to be the Cleveland Indians next manager, Gary Bell pitched the Tribe to a 7-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins Tuesday.

General Manager Gabe Paul has said he will make his managerial choice known in Los Angeles this weekend. Cleveland first base coach Mel McGaha is said to have the inside track, but he confounded the prophets by saying nobody has asked him if he wants the job. Manager Jimmie Dykes says he's sure McGaha will be named.

Bell lost a shutout in the eighth inning when Zorro Versalles homered with two on. Bell (12-15) contributed three singles and drove in a run. The righthander gave up 10 hits, but stranded the same number of runners.

The Indians got a run in the first on Jim Piersall's walk and singles by Chuck Essegian and John Romano.

In the second, singles by Woodie Held, Mike de la Hoz and Bell produced the one run, and a second scored when centerfielder Lenny Green dropped Piersall's short fly with the bases loaded.

Cleveland increased its lead to 4-0 in the seventh. Singles by Willie Kirkland and Romano and a walk to Vic Power filled the bases. Held then singled to score Kirkland.

The Tribe gained a 7-0 edge with three runs in the eighth. Bell singled and Ken Aspromonte walked. Tito Francona drove Bell in with a double. Kirkland was walked intentionally, loading the bases. On a double play ball hit to second baseman Billy Martin by Romano, Kirkland slid hard into Martin, who threw wild to first after making the force play. Aspromonte and Francona scored on the error.

Machen Rates No. 2 Boxer On Heavy List

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., has replaced Britain's Henry Cooper as the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the new Ring Magazine boxing ratings released today.

Machen moved up from the third spot while Cooper was dropped from second to third. Ring editor Nat Fleischer made the shift because of Machen's impressive knockout of Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y., and Cooper's idleness. Sonny Liston of Philadelphia is ranked first contender by Ring.

Cooper is ranked first by the National Boxing Association which dropped Liston out of the ratings because of his suspension by Pennsylvania.

The monthly ratings show two new No. 1 contenders in other divisions. Rafiu King of Nigeria was made the leading challenger in the featherweight division following his knockout of European champion Gracieux Lamperti of France. The Frenchman, who had been No. 1, was demoted to second.

Carlos Ortiz of New York was promoted to No. 1 in the lightweight class for his victory over Doug Vaillant of Cuba. Dave Charnley of England was moved down from first to second.

Roger's Parents Proud Of No. 60 –Not Surprised

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — The parents of Roger Maris were proud but not surprised when their son slugged his 60th homer for the Yankees Tuesday.

Roger's father Rudy, hearing of number 60, said "I feel great. I hope he gets another one. I felt he'd get a tie when he got back to Yankee Stadium. The pressure is off now."

Mrs. A. Corrine Maris, Roger's mother, said, it was wonderful and that she'd predicted he'd tie the record. She said "whenever he'd hit a homer, it brought tears to my eyes."

Carry Back, Kelso Wait Saturday Race

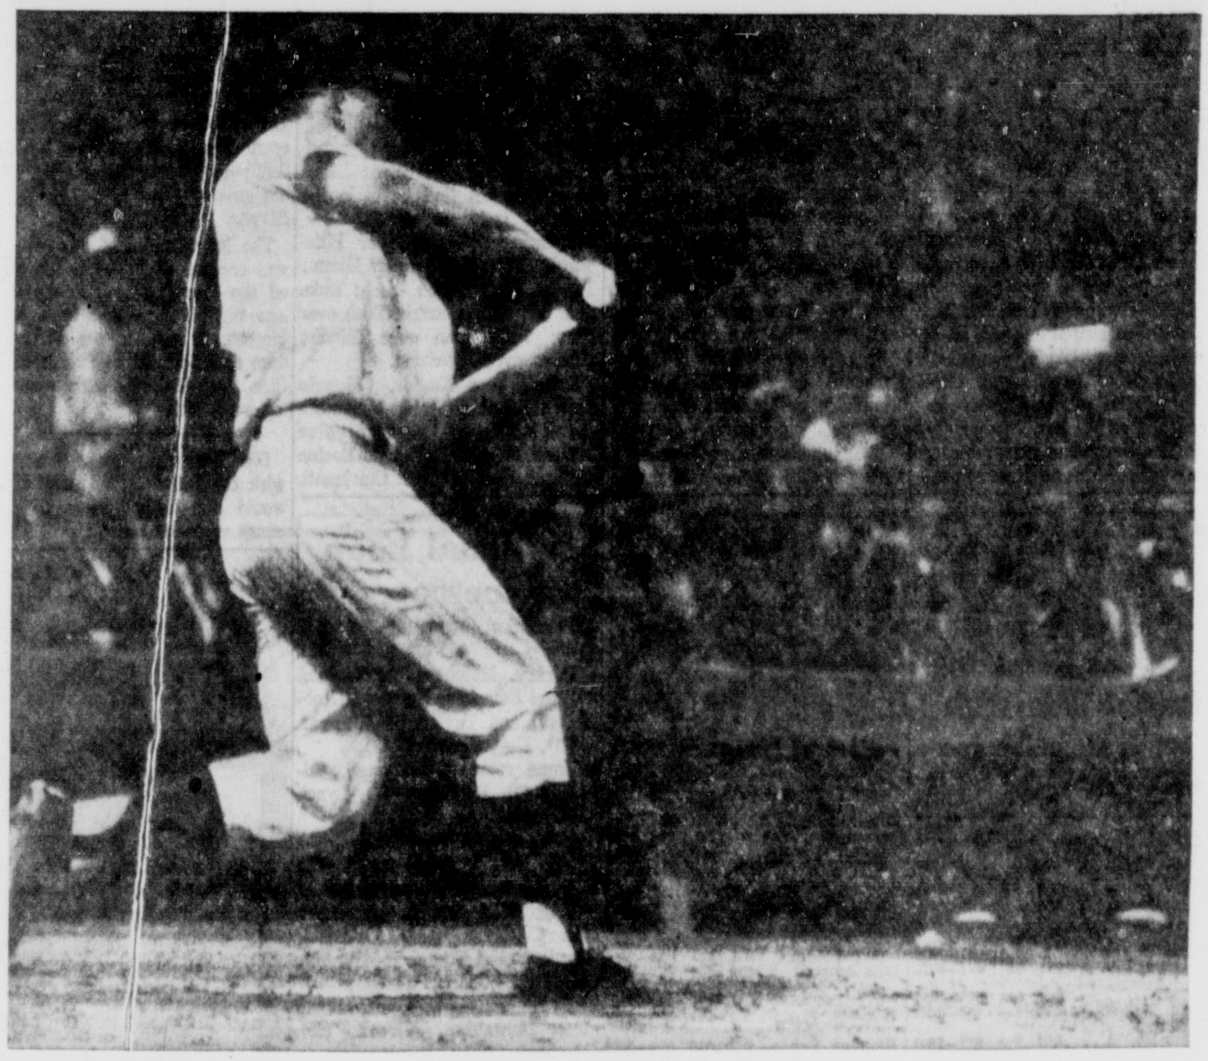

NEW YORK (AP) — Racing fans with heart murmurs should stay away from Belmont Park on Saturday. Carry Back and Kelso, who have provided some of the most exciting finishes in racing this season, will hook up in the race which probably will decide the 1961 American champion.

The meeting will be in the $100,000-added Woodward Stakes at 1¼ miles.

Six or seven horses may start but most attention will be focused on Mrs. Richard C. du Pont's 4-year-old Kelso, and Mrs. Jack Price's 3-year-old Carry Back.

Kelso, 1960 horse-of-the-year, has been beaten only once in 14 months. Carry Back won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Flamingo and Florida Derby and is the 3-year-old champ of 1961.

Cincy In Time, Roger A Little Late

Maris And Reds Both See Season Goals Come True

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris, 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, and the Cincinnati Reds, a pennant-starved team for 21 years, both have realized their season goals —Maris a little late and the Reds in plenty of time.

Maris blasted his 60th home run Tuesday night to equal Babe Ruth's record output of 1927. It will go down in the books as a separate record by order of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick because Maris wasn't able to do it in 154 games.

This season, the American League schedule was lengthened to 162 games and Frick ruled that Maris' efforts—even if he hits more homers in the final four games—will be listed in a separate category from Ruth's.

The Reds, who finished sixth last year and were not rated any better than fifth by the experts this season, won the National League pennant with a big assist from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, 6-3, in Chicago, then headed back for Cincinnati to await the results of the Los Angeles-Pittsburgh twi-night doubleheader in Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers, the only team that had a mathematical chance of catching the Reds, won the first game, 5-3. The Pirates, who had won the pennant and defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series last year, won the second game, 8-0.

So the Reds will meet the Yankees, who clinched the American League pennant a week ago, in the World Series starting in New York Oct. 4.

Arrows Show Aerial Attack

Ashland Visits Wellsville Looking For First Victory

With some of the malfunctions worked out of their offensive machinery, Wellsville High's Tigers gun for victory No. 2 Friday night in entertaining winless Ashland, at Nicholson Stadium.

New coach Lloyd Dunne, the third mentor in three years at Ashland, will present a squad that has lost its first three games.

The Arrows figure to present a strong aerial attack, with quarterback Mike Humrichouser at the controls. He's compiled a 50 per cent completion average this year, hitting on 25 of 50.

Dunn has installed a double-wing offensive formation at Ashland. While it wasn't too successful in the first two games, the Arrows showed improvement in their last outing.

Ashland lots its opener to Coach Lou Venditti's Canton Lincoln eleven, 14-0, then fell to Shelby, 24-8. Last week, the Arrows bowed to Coshocton, 36-20.

Meanwhile, Coach Ken Woods' Tigers whipped Toronto, 14-8, for their first victory and gave signs of showing a complete recovery from the effects of losing to Freedom and Lisbon.

Ashland performs in the Cardinal conference and can look back on seven straight losing campaigns.

The Ashland quarterback, however, is rated a standout passer on the short tosses. He's gained 212 yards this year through the air. His main targets are ends Bruce Smalley, senior, 6-3, 175 pounds, and Steve Pealer, senior, 6-foot, 180 pounds.

Halfback Gary Moose, a converted fullback, scored a touchdown on a 26-yard run against Coshocton. He was the team's most valuable player and leading ground gainer last year. A "power" runner, he stands 5-9, and weighs 160.

Against Shelby, quarterback Humrichouser completed 17 of 26 passes. As a sophomore, he clicked for 75 per cent of his tosses.

Buffalo Has 3-0 Little Series Lead

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Buffalo Manager Kerby Farrell feels confident he's riding a winner today as baseball's Junior World Series moves to the land of blue grass and mint juleps.

Farrell's "horses" raced to a 3-0 advantage over Louisville of the American Association in the best-of-7 series Tuesday night in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium.

Bobby Sadowski's three - run homer in the eighth inning gave the Bisons of the International League a 6-5 decision after the Colonels had taken a two-run edge in the top of the frame.

Louisville Manager Ben Geraghty said Larry Maxie will start tonight for the Colonels. Buffalo, which hasn't won a series since 1960, will start with Paul Brown.

Every day, some 700,000 Americans buy at least one meal through vending machines.

Snead's Dropped From U.S. Ryder Cup Golf Team

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Sam Snead, member of the Ryder Cup golf team 10 times since 1937 and captain of the victorious 1959 squad, won't be traveling to Great Britain for this year's match.

He was dropped from the team Tuesday by officials of the Professional Golfers Association.

Doug Ford, the 11th man on the qualification list for the 10-man team, will be going in Snead's place.

PGA officials said Snead's suspension was in line with procedure governing action taken when a member is found guilty of breaking the rules.

Snead was among six professional golfers suspended six months and fined $500 last weekend for playing in a Cincinnati pro-am tournament without permission of the PGA or officials of the PGA-sponsored Portland, Ore., Open Tournament.

The other five professionals involved are Tommy Bolt, Dick Mayer, Chick Harbert, Lew Worsham and Walter Burkemo.

Maris Wants To Hit One More Homer

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris hit the home run he wanted most Tuesday night—his 60th of the season. Now he wants one even more—home run No. 61.

"I was beginning to wonder whether I'd ever get it," he said today referring to the historic four-bagger he walloped in the third inning off Jack Fisher, Baltimore right-hander.

"Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more." He has four games in which to do it.

Words weren't coming easily to the New York Yankee slugger who, normally is a shy, almost reticent introvert. He was fully aware that he had equalled Babe Ruth's fantastic 60 in a season and it embarrassed him when he was introduced to Mrs. Ruth, the immortal Babe's wife, immediately after the game.

Maris Will Get No. 59 Baseball

BALTIMORE (AP) — Roger Maris knocked most of the glamour off home run ball No. 59 Tuesday night by slugging his 30th homer of the season at New York's Yankee Stadium.

But if the Yankee outfielder still has a sentimental attachment for No. 59, he can get it without charge.

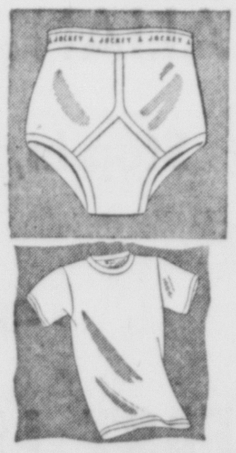

Several hours before Tuesday night's homer, an agreement was reached here between Bob Reitz, the 32-year-old Baltimorean who caught No. 59 last Wednesday night, and the Sports Boosters of Maryland.

Reitz agreed to accept $500 from the sports group, and announced he would turn the money over to the Associated Catholic Charities, of Baltimore. The Sports Boosters, in turn, would present the baseball to Maris.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Roger Maris, Yankees, hit 60th home run in third inning of 3-2 victory over Orioles and matched Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927.

Pitching — Joe Gibbon, Pirates, hurled one-hitter for 8-0 victory over Dodgers in nightcap of doubleheader that eliminated Los Angeles and gave Cincinnati Reds their first National League pennant in 21 years.

Nonpareil Club Plans Caravan To New Philly

Plans to organize an auto caravan to follow the Potters to New Philadelphia Friday night was mapped when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club met Tuesday night at Patterson Field.

Russell E. Hall, president, said the caravan will form at 5:30 at the Westgate Junior High School parking lot, and leave no later than 6:30.

Blue and white crepe paper streamers will be available for fans who join the caravan, Hall said.

The club is also selling 200 booster emblems. Inscribed with "I Am A Potter Booster," the emblems can be pasted to the windshields or bumpers of autos. They are 50 cents.

Hall reminded fans that the club's annual membership drive is still in progress and dues are to be remitted as soon as possible. The goal is 1,000 members, half of which have been enrolled, J. Allen Montgomery, membership chairman, told the club.

Proceeds will be used to boost East Liverpool High School athletics, but primarily this year will be used to finance an extensive renovating project under the stadium.

Members inspected the renovating project in the showerrooms, lockerrooms and toilets. The Athletic Association is also sharing in the work. Earl Broadbent is the contractor.

Coach Bob Hedmond, discussing this week's opponent, told the club he thinks the Potters have a fine chance of winning their first game against the Quakers. New Philly is 0-2 for the year, but has considerable heft and size.

Next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 at the stadium.

Pair Of Former Browns Wait Cleveland Fray

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Clarke and Billy Howton, formerly of the Cleveland Browns, return to Cleveland Sunday as members of the rampaging Dallas Cowboys—perhaps to haunt the Browns.

Clarke, a flanking back, and Howton have caught almost half of the Cowboys' passes in Dallas' two victories this year. Clarke, who spent three seasons with the Browns before being drafted by Dallas when the team was formed last season, has caught nine passes for 156 yards and one touchdown.

Howton, in his 10th season in the National Football League, has snared eight passes for 184 yards and has an average gain of 23 yards per catch. He also has scored a touchdown.

AND HOME RUN NO. 60 was on its way as Yankee outfielder Roger Maris leans into a pitch thrown by Baltimore's Jack Fisher and blasts it into the right field stands at Yankee Stadium. The home run came in the third inning Tuesday night. (UPI Telephoto)

Cincy In Time, Roger A Little Late

Maris And Reds Both See Season Goals Come True

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris, 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, and the Cincinnati Reds, a pennant-starved team for 21 years, both have realized their season goals —Maris a little late and the Reds in plenty of time.

Maris blasted his 60th home run Tuesday night to equal Babe Ruth's record output of 1927. It will go down in the books as a separate record by order of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick because Maris wasn't able to do it in 154 games.

This season, the American League schedule was lengthened to 162 games and Frick ruled that Maris' efforts—even if he hits more homers in the final four games—will be listed in a separate category from Ruth's.

The Reds, who finished sixth last year and were not rated any better than fifth by the experts this season, won the National League pennant with a big assist from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, 6-3, in Chicago, then headed back for Cincinnati to await the results of the Los Angeles-Pittsburgh twi-night doubleheader in Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers, the only team that had a mathematical chance of catching the Reds, won the first game, 5-3. The Pirates, who had won the pennant and defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series last year, won the second game, 8-0.

So the Reds will meet the Yankees, who clinched the American League pennant a week ago, in the World Series starting in New York Oct. 4.

Maris Wants To Hit One More Homer

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris hit the home run he wanted most Tuesday night—his 60th of the season. Now he wants one even more—home run No. 61.

"I was beginning to wonder whether I'd ever get it," he said today referring to the historic four-bagger he walloped in the third inning off Jack Fisher, Baltimore right-hander.

"Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more." He has four games in which to do it.

Words weren't coming easily to the New York Yankee slugger who, normally is a shy, almost reticent introvert. He was fully aware that he had equalled Babe Ruth's fantastic 60 in a season and it embarrassed him when he was introduced to Mrs. Ruth, the immortal Babe's wife, immediately after the game.

Arrows Show Aerial Attack

Ashland Visits Wellsville Looking For First Victory

With some of the malfunctions worked out of their offensive machinery, Wellsville High's Tigers gun for victory No. 2 Friday night in entertaining winless Ashland, at Nicholson Stadium.

New coach Lloyd Dunne, the third mentor in three years at Ashland, will present a squad that has lost its first three games.

The Arrows figure to present a strong aerial attack, with quarterback Mike Humrichouser at the controls. He's compiled a 50 per cent completion average this year, hitting on 25 of 50.

Dunn has installed a double-wing offensive formation at Ashland. While it wasn't too successful in the first two games, the Arrows showed improvement in their last outing.

Ashland lots its opener to Coach Lou Venditti's Canton Lincoln eleven, 14-0, then fell to Shelby, 24-8. Last week, the Arrows bowed to Coshocton, 36-20.

Meanwhile, Coach Ken Woods' Tigers whipped Toronto, 14-8, for their first victory and gave signs of showing a complete recovery from the effects of losing to Freedom and Lisbon.

Ashland performs in the Cardinal conference and can look back on seven straight losing campaigns.

The Ashland quarterback, however, is rated a standout passer on the short tosses. He's gained 212 yards this year through the air. His main targets are ends Bruce Smalley, senior, 6-3, 175 pounds, and Steve Pealer, senior, 6-foot, 180 pounds.

Halfback Gary Moose, a converted fullback, scored a touchdown on a 26-yard run against Coshocton. He was the team's most valuable player and leading ground gainer last year. A "power" runner, he stands 5-9, and weighs 160.

Ashland won but one game in 1960 and only four the year before.

Maris Will Get No. 59 Baseball

BALTIMORE (AP) — Roger Maris knocked most of the glamour off home run ball No. 59 Tuesday night by slugging his 30th homer of the season at New York's Yankee Stadium.

But if the Yankee outfielder still has a sentimental attachment for No. 59, he can get it without charge.

Several hours before Tuesday night's homer, an agreement was reached here between Bob Reitz, the 32-year-old Baltimorean who caught No. 59 last Wednesday night, and the Sports Boosters of Maryland.

Reitz agreed to accept $500 from the sports group, and announced he would turn the money over to the Associated Catholic Charities, of Baltimore. The Sports Boosters, in turn, would present the baseball to Maris.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Roger Maris, Yankees, hit 60th home run in third inning of 3-2 victory over Orioles and matched Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927.

Pitching — Joe Gibbon, Pirates, hurled one-hitter for 8-0 victory over Dodgers in nightcap of doubleheader that eliminated Los Angeles and gave Cincinnati Reds their first National League pennant in 21 years.

Buffalo Has 3-0 Little Series Lead

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Buffalo Manager Kerby Farrell feels confident he's riding a winner today as baseball's Junior World Series moves to the land of blue grass and mint juleps.

Farrell's "horses" raced to a 3-0 advantage over Louisville of the American Association in the best-of-7 series Tuesday night in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium.

Bobby Sadowski's three - run homer in the eighth inning gave the Bisons of the International League a 6-5 decision after the Colonels had taken a two-run edge in the top of the frame.

Louisville Manager Ben Geraghty said Larry Maxie will start tonight for the Colonels. Buffalo, which hasn't won a series since 1960, will start with Paul Brown.

Every day, some 700,000 Americans buy at least one meal through vending machines.

Snead's Dropped From U.S. Ryder Cup Golf Team

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Sam Snead, member of the Ryder Cup golf team 10 times since 1937 and captain of the victorious 1959 squad, won't be traveling to Great Britain for this year's match.

He was dropped from the team Tuesday by officials of the Professional Golfers Association.

Doug Ford, the 11th man on the qualification list for the 10-man team, will be going in Snead's place.

PGA officials said Snead's suspension was in line with procedure governing action taken when a member is found guilty of breaking the rules.

Snead was among six professional golfers suspended six months and fined $500 last weekend for playing in a Cincinnati pro-am tournament without permission of the PGA or officials of the PGA-sponsored Portland, Ore., Open Tournament.

The other five professionals involved are Tommy Bolt, Dick Mayer, Chick Harbert, Lew Worsham and Walter Burkemo.

Nonpareil Club Plans Caravan To New Philly

Plans to organize an auto caravan to follow the Potters to New Philadelphia Friday night was mapped when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club met Tuesday night at Patterson Field.

Russell E. Hall, president, said the caravan will form at 5:30 at the Westgate Junior High School parking lot, and leave no later than 6:30.

Blue and white crepe paper streamers will be available for fans who join the caravan, Hall said.

The club is also selling 200 booster emblems. Inscribed with "I Am A Potter Booster," the emblems can be pasted to the windshields or bumpers of autos. They are 50 cents.

Hall reminded fans that the club's annual membership drive is still in progress and dues are to be remitted as soon as possible. The goal is 1,000 members, half of which have been enrolled, J. Allen Montgomery, membership chairman, told the club.

Proceeds will be used to boost East Liverpool High School athletics, but primarily this year will be used to finance an extensive renovating project under the stadium.

Members inspected the renovating project in the showerrooms, lockerrooms and toilets. The Athletic Association is also sharing in the work. Earl Broadbent is the contractor.

Coach Bob Hedmond, discussing this week's opponent, told the club he thinks the Potters have a fine chance of winning their first game against the Quakers. New Philly is 0-2 for the year, but has considerable heft and size.

Next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 at the stadium.

Here's District Grid Schedule This Week

Pair Of Former Browns Wait Cleveland Fray

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Clarke and Billy Howton, formerly of the Cleveland Browns, return to Cleveland Sunday as members of the rampaging Dallas Cowboys—perhaps to haunt the Browns.

Clarke, a flanking back, and Howton have caught almost half of the Cowboys' passes in Dallas' two victories this year. Clarke, who spent three seasons with the Browns before being drafted by Dallas when the team was formed last season, has caught nine passes for 156 yards and one touchdown.

Howton, in his 10th season in the National Football League, has snared eight passes for 184 yards and has an average gain of 23 yards per catch. He also has scored a touchdown.

From what I have been able to learn from a few sources of information, squirrel hunting is way down in many parts of the state.

Checking with some of the largest license agencies in the county, I find that sales in most instances are normal. One agency reports an increase in the sale of hunting licenses.

I am of the opinion that the main reason for lack of interest in squirrel hunting is the unusually warm, dry weather we have experienced since the season opened.

The trees are still green, showing no evidence of the colorful fall transformation. All this sums up to what many hunters have said to me, "Who wants to hunt squirrels in the summer time"?

Keep in mind, this is unusual weather for September and the season in Zone 1 runs until Nov. 11, although Zone 2 ends October 28. Zone 1 is all land in Columbiana County that lies south of Route 30. Zone 2 is all land north of Route 30. There is no reason to believe we will not get better hunting weather later on in the season and there will be plenty of time to hunt when the weather cools off. This could happen before this article appears in this paper.

I READ with interest the article that appeared in the papers recently about the farmer who had to give up farming in Ashtabula County after the beavers flooded his farm and he got a job in the city in order to make a living.

I wonder what people did back in the old days before the advent of the game warden? I doubt if they just up and "pulled freight" because they couldn't compete with animals.

I had a call recently from a turkey farmer who was losing a lot of turkeys to predacious raccoons. It would be too expensive to provide a vermin-proof fence over the number of acres he owns. He has the right to use any physical resistance he chooses to stop the onslaught.

Suppose my wife had a playful kitten and everytime the kitten jumped up on her leg it put a runner in her hose.

There would be a problem. As I see it, there are three solutions—put mittens on the kitten, wear hip boots or get rid of the nusiance.

If I had my say that cat would have to go. Most animal nusiances can be corrected by a little individual effort. Beavers, along with deer, put in their appearances within the last three decades. There's been a shooting season on deer and now we had our first trapping season on beavers last January, with another coming up next winter in 1962. The Ohio Division of Wildlife did not stock either of these animals.

OSU Gets Nod On TCU

Iowa Favored, Irish Over Sooners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The college football toughies swing into action this weekend with the result that predicting becomes tougher, too. Last week there were 30 correct ones among the 38 games that reached a decision for an average of .799.

Iowa over California: The Hawkeye quarterback, Wilburn Hollis, can call on too many guns.

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Neither is up to its par of several years ago, as the TV viewers will discover, but the Irish have more experience in the backfield.

Mississippi over Kentucky: That speedy Mississippi line will be too much for Kentucky's youngsters.

Ohio State over Texas Christian: TCU upset Kansas last weekend and Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State got the message. He's got All-America fullback Bob Ferguson primed.

Michigan over UCLA: Michigan's first team rates with any in the Big Ten.

Alabama over Tulane: You can't win if you can't score—and that Alabama defense is rugged.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: Michigan State's slow but powerful attack will find holes in the Badgers' leaky defense.

Elsewhere: Baylor over Pittsburgh; Penn State over Miami; Texas over Texas Tech; Duke over Virginia; Georgia Tech over Rice; Washington over Illinois; Kansas over Wyoming.

Detroit over Xavier, Colorado over Oklahoma State, Minnesota over Missouri, Nebraska over Arizona, Northwestern over Boston College, Wichita over Cincinnati.

Carpenter Sentenced For Irritating Letters

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—An Avon carpenter is serving a 10-day sentence in Lorain County jail for writing irritating letters to a judge and other county officials.

John Downey, 69, was sentenced Tuesday by Lorain County Common Pleas Court Judge Leroy F. Kelly, who suspended a $500 fine.

Judge Kelly sent sheriff's deputies for Downey Tuesday for failing to appear in court Monday to answer a contempt of court citation. The judge had cited Downey for writing what he called libelous and derogatory letters to the court and other officials, berating the court, and delaying a pending case.

Judge Kelly said the letter writing apparently stemmed from Downey's divorce 10 years ago and the subsequent sale of the Downey property to satisfy a property partition.

Law Signed Stiffening Sabotage Penalties

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Legislation stiffening the penalties for sabotage of communications systems became law Tuesday with the signature of President Kennedy.

The bill increases to a maximum of 10 years imprisonment and $10,000 fine the penalties for destruction or damage of commercial companies' facilities that might be used by the government.

The measure grew out of the dynamiting last May of television relay facilities.

Medical Figure Dies

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Rudolph J. Depner, 56, medical director of the Milwaukee County Asylum, was found fatally shot in his home Tuesday. Depner, regarded as a nationally known authority in the field of mental health, had served as assistant commissioner of Maryland Mental Hygiene from 1957 until he came to Milwaukee last February.

Ohio River Stretch Open To Navigation

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—An unblocked 61-mile stretch of open river from Greenup, Ky., to Gallipolis Dam was opened to navigation today on the Ohio River.

The long section of open water was created when engineers raised the Greenup pool behind the new highlift dam four feet. That increase eliminated the need for dam and Lock 27 at Proctorville, Ohio. The 38-year-old dam is being removed.

Big Daddy Lipscomb, this year with the Pittsburgh Steelers, would like to operate a boys' camp when he retires.

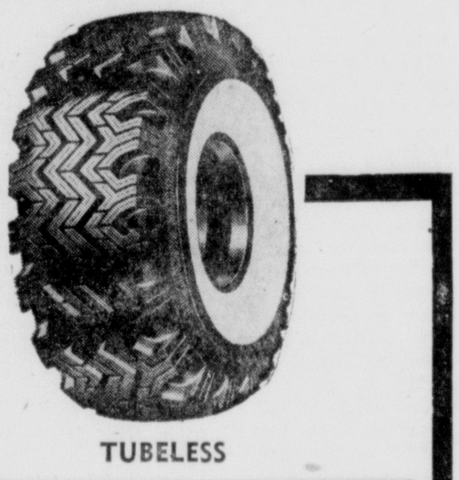

Coast Guard Rescues 6 Stranded On Pier

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—The Coast Guard has rescued six men stranded overnight on the pier head and the east breakwall.

John P. Hrusivsky of Lowellville and John J. Harmarik of Youngstown said the storm Monday night washed away their boat and they were left on the pierhead.

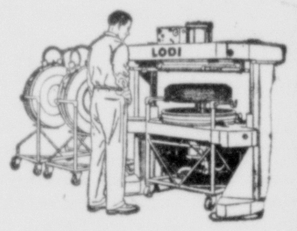

Rescued from the breakwall after their cabin cruiser was smashed against it by waves were John A. Altomare, Leo Verkoski, Willard F. Carter and John Stevens, all of Ashtabula.

The nation's interstate highway program has created an unparalleled demand for slag.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

From what I have been able to learn from a few sources of information, squirrel hunting is way down in many parts of the state.

Checking with some of the largest license agencies in the county, I find that sales in most instances are normal. One agency reports an increase in the sale of hunting licenses.

I am of the opinion that the main reason for lack of interest in squirrel hunting is the unusually warm, dry weather we have experienced since the season opened.

The trees are still green, showing no evidence of the colorful fall transformation. All this sums up to what many hunters have said to me, "Who wants to hunt squirrels in the summer time"?

Keep in mind, this is unusual weather for September and the season in Zone 1 runs until Nov. 11, although Zone 2 ends October 28. Zone 1 is all land in Columbiana County that lies south of Route 30. Zone 2 is all land north of Route 30. There is no reason to believe we will not get better hunting weather later on in the season and there will be plenty of time to hunt when the weather cools off. This could happen before this article appears in this paper.

I READ with interest the article that appeared in the papers recently about the farmer who had to give up farming in Ashtabula County after the beavers flooded his farm and he got a job in the city in order to make a living.

I wonder what people did back in the old days before the advent of the game warden? I doubt if they just up and "pulled freight" because they couldn't compete with animals.

I had a call recently from a turkey farmer who was losing a lot of turkeys to predacious raccoons. It would be too expensive to provide a vermin-proof fence over the number of acres he owns. He has the right to use any physical resistance he chooses to stop the onslaught.

Suppose my wife had a playful kitten and everytime the kitten jumped up on her leg it put a runner in her hose.

There would be a problem. As I see it, there are three solutions—put mittens on the kitten, wear hip boots or get rid of the nuisance.

If I had my say that cat would have to go. Most animal nusiances can be corrected by a little individual effort. Beavers, along with deer, put in their appearances within the last three decades. There's been a shooting season on deer and now we had our first trapping season on beavers last January, with another coming up next winter in 1962. The Ohio Division of Wildlife did not stock either of these animals.

OSU Gets Nod On TCU

Iowa Favored, Irish Over Sooners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The college football toughies swing into action this weekend with the result that predicting becomes tougher, too. Last week there were 30 correct ones among the 38 games that reached a decision for an average of .799.

Iowa over California: The Hawkeye quarterback, Wilburn Hollis, can call on too many guns.

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Neither is up to its par of several years ago, as the TV viewers will discover, but the Irish have more experience in the backfield.

Mississippi over Kentucky: That speedy Mississippi line will be too much for Kentucky's youngsters.

Ohio State over Texas Christian: TCU upset Kansas last weekend and Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State got the message. He's got All-America fullback Bob Ferguson primed.

Michigan over UCLA: Michigan's first team rates with any in the Big Ten.

Alabama over Tulane: You can't win if you can't score—and that Alabama defense is rugged.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: Michigan State's slow but powerful attack will find holes in the Badgers' leaky defense.

Elsewhere: Baylor over Pittsburgh; Penn State over Miami; Texas over Texas Tech; Duke over Virginia; Georgia Tech over Rice; Washington over Illinois; Kansas over Wyoming.

Detroit over Xavier, Colorado over Oklahoma State, Minnesota over Missouri, Nebraska over Arizona, Northwestern over Boston College, Wichita over Cincinnati.

Carpenter Sentenced For Irritating Letters

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—An Avon carpenter is serving a 10-day sentence in Lorain County jail for writing irritating letters to a judge and other county officials.

John Downey, 69, was sentenced Tuesday by Lorain County Common Pleas Court Judge Leroy F. Kelly, who suspended a $500 fine.

Judge Kelly sent sheriff's deputies for Downey Tuesday for failing to appear in court Monday to answer a contempt of court citation. The judge had cited Downey for writing what he called libelous and derogatory letters to the court and other officials, berating the court, and delaying a pending case.

Judge Kelly said the letter writing apparently stemmed from Downey's divorce 10 years ago and the subsequent sale of the Downey property to satisfy a property partition.
